FIRST CONVERSATION

ABOUT GOD'S MISSION, THE MEANING OF EXISTENCE AND THE PATH OF LIFE

I was asked to conduct an interview with The Lord Jesus Christ, which is public this time and is for our friends and co-workers of God's Family. It focuses mainly on the theme of God's Mission, touches on philosophical questions about the meaning of existence and also deals with the spiritual metaphysics of our life journey.

Michal Rafael: How is our Mission actually doing at this time (May 2018)?

The Lord Jesus Christ: The Mission of God's Family has shifted to a transitional period as the process of completing the preparations for moving to the new conditions of the 5th dimension takes place. During April and May 2018, the spirit and soul of several prepared co-workers re-vibrated and who ultimately re-vibrate also physically to the New Earth soon after My direct incarnation of Jana leaves this reality. This period is characterized by more frequent vibration fluctuations, where many are able to feel love, motivate to go on, and are kept in top view, while then comes a temporary fall in the form of attacks by negative entities emitting coarse vibrating energies into your hearts which, when confronted with your positive nature, create an unpleasant kind of “tension” within.

Michal Rafael: Why do You allow continuous improvement and then deterioration of these states?

The Lord Jesus Christ: Before your incarnation, I discussed with you every detail of your life. Between four eyes, we discussed everything you want to experience, what situations you get into and what conditions you will have for fulfilling the mission. I didn't promise anyone that being on planet Zero would be easy, but I promised anyone who is a key participant in the mission of God's Family that he/she can handle all the set obstacles, and every time he/she stumbles he/she can count on My helping hand that will lift him/her from the dust of the earth and help him/her continue to his/her desired goal. The fact that in many co-workers are constantly recurring states of improvement and deterioration is, among other things, a part of showing confidence in God's perfect plan, in which, despite the difficulty and sometimes absurdity of what is happening around you and within you, you demonstrate immense perseverance and enduring faith. What's the point of sending you here without the promise that I always hold you? I would never let one of the most advanced and resilient beings of the Multiverse, which are the core of our team, have been put at the mercy of the Pseudocreators. If any of My representatives incarnated here in 3D, who are inextricably linked to God's Family, fall, it would mean a partial victory of the negative state. But the negative state can never succeed permanently. Overall, it is constantly going to decline in favor of the True Creation, and although it must win on this planet for a short time, it will never regain its dominion, which is diminishing at any moment. Once it has exhausted its potential to keep it running for the time being, it will be able to be completely eliminated, and the fullness of the true life of the positive state will finally reign. As for the agents and minions of the Pseudocreators who have turned away from us for various reasons in the past, also their motives and actions are part of the concept of the universal plan of God, which I will talk about in a moment.

Michal Rafael: So what about our personal plan with which we incarnate on this planet? Do we always know in detail what we are going to?

The Lord Jesus Christ: Yes. Whether he/she is individual from the positive or negative state, he/she always knows exactly what aspect of life he/she will depict here. If he/she comes from the Zone of Displacement, he/she does not consult his/her personal path with Me, as is the case of beings coming here from higher dimensions, but with one of his/her "superiors". On the other hand, whoever comes from "the heavens", this conversation undergoes with My participation. It is then shown to the individual concerned every second of his/her individual incarnation in the human body according to how the individual's personal plan is to proceed. Who deviates from this plan does not manage his/her mission (e.g. when a being from the positive state is seduced by the dark side and fallen). This is the so-called personal plan that My closest co-workers fulfill to more than 90 %, other lightworkers from around the world to about 40 % to 90 % (more or less, by individual agreement). However, even if for any reason one person drastically deviates from his personal plan (this does not apply to My representants in the Team of God's Family and other "people" associated with The New Revelation), then this act and one's subsequent usually negative motives fall within the universal the plan of the Lord Jesus Christ, who, even in the smallest detail, counts with everything that with you, and also with whatever else happens and does not happen for eternity ahead. Even at the most within level, in a specific and extraordinary area that you do not have free access to during this cycle of time, you know exactly what, how, when and with whom you will experience. How is it possible? Before you came into being and existence as an individualized sentient entity, you were part of the Absolute State as a unique idea to which I gave a separate life at some point. Before this happened, from a position of no-time and no-space, I projected your life to you just as it exactly happens and goes to eternity. This is the universal plan of God that counts fully with everything and there is nothing that could disturb, stop, bypass, etc. So, from My point of view, everything that happens anywhere in being and existence, including planet Zero, and at all levels of Hells is perfectly fine and in its place where it serves a constructive purpose for the benefit of the whole. Even the unnatural negative state ultimately helps the entire Creation and brings near the era when the fullness of the true life of the positive state will enter into being and existence. Although, thanks to My Absolutely positive Condition, I do not love and approve of the state of evils and falsities, I will temporarily tolerate it on the basis of free will of all of you. Before activating the negative state, each of you agreed to what you will witness in this cycle of time, what you will experience, what roles will you want to hold. Even this cycle of time (like all other cycles) you have “seen” in your spiritual creation, when life was projected to you on eternity ahead, however, this has been “reminded” of each sentient entity prior to putting the Zone of Displacement into active mode, during which time, all of you have been put in a special state and mood where in a state of complete freedom you have agreed to everything that will happen to you during the reign of darkness, whether you remain an angel of heaven or become a hellish creature turning away from Me. You have also agreed that this awareness will be temporarily erased to you, but everyone without exception will remember this initial agreement at the very end of this cycle of time (in the so-called limbo), when to everyone open consciousness. When you consulted with Me about your future personal experiences, you were given a holy promise that even if you would commit the most outrageous acts (this concerns the Pseudocreators), you would be liberated at the right time from captivity of evils, falsities, illusions, falsities and distortions, and everything would be forgiven so that you can return to the True Creation as an unencumbered, restructured being. Когда вы консультировались со мной все относительно своих будущих ЛИЧНЫХ

Even the current agents and minions of the Pseudocreators going against our Team of God's Family were, of course, acquainted in advance with everything what they should have experienced and what was to be part of their journey, therefore they chose that way. From their example, everyone is instructed in what to never choose, and therefore the Creation is very grateful to them. Since from the Absolute Position I know how everyone will end up, and since I perfectly understand why everyone is doing exactly what they are doing, why everyone is just that and not the other, My love for you is boundless and unlimited, as well as understanding and certainty that everything is and will continue to be extremely good. That's why I love the Pseudocreators (not their evil behavior and negative state) and all other beings as they are, and why everything that happens and takes place in the True Creation, on planet Zero and anywhere in Hells is in its place, where it fulfills a predetermined purpose that will be fulfilled and overcome at some point. This is the universal God's plan of the Lord Jesus Christ, whose concept includes every motive, thought, and action on your personal life journey that you agreed to when I created you.

Michal Rafael: What about beings that have been fabricated in Hells? No one asked them that they would have to live in Hells for some time and consider it the only possible way of existence. When they originated has the path of life been shown in some way also to them as it will become?

The Lord Jesus Christ: Everyone comes into being and existence by free choice. Even to the creatures spiritually originating in Hells have been shown their path of life how it will become forever before entering into being and existence. But how can this be with the hellish creatures if only I, The Lord Jesus Christ, can show this path? Take into account that each being has, in the ultimate sense, an original home in the Source of all Life, where, as a unique idea, she is in constant interaction with Me. This means that even the most wretched creature spiritually fabricated in Hells, or more precisely, its idea in its pure substance originally originates from Myself, the State from which I create all beings. The pseudocreators did not have full knowledge of the creation of life, because they themselves can not create anything new. All their efforts are merely stolen and then inverted elements of life, as is the case with the creatures they created in Hells, however, in order to do so, they had to extract the original pure idea from that Source first. Before this idea agreed to become an individualized entity that would arise in Hells, her life was shown to her directly by me how it will happen and will take place forever. Therefore, this idea, which eventually becomes a hellish creature, knew well that she would awaken in good time from all the suffering and illusions caused by its stay in the negative state and undergo conversion to the positive state (at the end of this shorter cycle of time), where she will live by My side as a pure angel in love, acceptance and joy. This promise and initial awareness is the basic building block and the starting point in the life of every sentient entity - both positive and negative.

Michal Rafael: What is the meaning of our life?

The Lord Jesus Christ: As long as you are on planet Zero, it is not easy to give a satisfactory answer to this deep metaphysical question because your perception and understanding is so far very limited. Like all important things, the question of the meaning of life is discussed in The New Revelation books, which implies that the main purpose of every being's life is to form a loving relationship with her creator, The Lord Jesus Christ, to approach Him/Her constantly, thus gaining more spiritual abilities and expanding your potential to express who you are and what you really are. Although you cannot now include this answer in a desirable way, I assure you that as soon as you move into the true life of the positive state where you no longer experience false reality and control, you will understand that this is the most amazing motivational factor thanks to which everyone has a constant taste and need to improve and approach his/her loving Parent. Another purpose of life is to form a loving relationship with other beings who are infinitely different and diverse from each other. Everyone has the opportunity to establish a loving, friendly, partner, family, or any other kind of relationship with someone who attracts of him/her in some way, with whom he/she resonates, and so on. Because always new entities and their associated universes, galaxies, solar systems, stars and planets are constantly emerging, it can never happen, that there was nothing more to discover. Life in the True Creation, after eliminating the negative state, will be one great endless adventure in which you will discover the hidden secrets of others and yourself, constantly understand new things, improve your abilities, grow toward heavenly infinity, approach My face, The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family.

Michal Rafael: What is the meaning of God's Existence that no one created and which has no beginning or end?

The Lord Jesus Christ: Again, this is a question so profound that in this third dimension it makes no sense to deal with it too much. Why do I even exist? Above all, because the nature of the Absolute State is always to be and to exist, and it can never be otherwise. I, formerly The Most High, now The Lord Jesus Christ, in the new cycle of time, the Lord Jesus Christ God's Family, in Myself contain everything that was, is, and will be, but also what was not, is not and will not. I transcend entire the Multiverse and no one can fully understand who I am in My full substance. Even the most advanced relative beings, the Firstborns, cannot theoretically or practically embrace Me in full, but just it is they who are closest to Me and who are able to hold at least a glimpse of My Absolute Love, Wisdom, Intelligence, Good and other true life Elements by which these beings help from the highest level of heaven (from the 12th dimension) to feed, maintain and further develop the Multiverse into increasingly beautiful forms. The prime purpose of My own life is the desire to share everything I contain with created independent beings. Thanks to sentient entities, I express Myself and thus get to know Myself better in the endless variations of the always-originating children of God who were ideas in the Absolute State until they were created. For Me, the greatest pleasure is to love Myself through you, communicate with you, laugh together, fulfill the desires of your hearts, give you everything you need for a pleased and happy existence. As a result, the cumulative sum of all existing beings and up to now non-separated ideas produces some kind of second “absolute” being with whom (i.e. all of you)

we are constantly evolving, getting to know each other and expressing the very essence of Life in the most beautiful way. I desire nothing but you accepting My love, they were with Me by My side in the One True Creation, and always were themselves, in freedom and harmony, using all the Absolute Elements in a relative sense which I give you. Further explanation of the meaning of God's Existence and the meaning of yourself would now be unnecessary. When you are back in the positive state, you will look at everything from top view, and then many other questions that you have asked yourself during your stay in this world will be answered or clarified. Generally speaking, there are as many senses of life as there are beings in the universe, and each of them finds the meaning of their personal existence in something else.

Michal Rafael: Can you give us some information about the new cycle of time?

The Lord Jesus Christ: In the new cycle of time, everyone will again be in the right place, and there will be nothing remotely reminiscent of the old times when the negative state was temporarily activated. The spiritual, mental and material worlds of the Zone of Displacement will cease to exist with the elimination of all evils and falsities, literally evaporating so that their elements are returned to the Source and released in new form for further creative efforts. Newly created beings will still be able to come up with the question: What a life without God would look like, but no one will have the ability to come up with anything what is directly against Me. All improper thoughts will lose their justification with the elimination of the negative state (like everything connected with it), so they will never be present again in sentient minds. If this possibility existed, there could never be the fullness of true life, there would still be something what is need to throw away from the mind. If the above question is raised, the individual will be inducted in a multiverse archive that will be situated in a special place outside the True Creation, where the true nature of the negative state, including the entire history of this old cycle of time, will be revealed in instant. But rarely does anyone come up with the idea of what it would look like without God. When the new cycle of time is fully established and the true life of the positive state is released into being and existence, the Latest Nature of God will also be completed. Since then, for all beings, I will call Myself "The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family", and will use the male and female forms as well as the appearance of My twins - a boy and a girl. Together we will create a totally unknown way of life, and everything will be much fuller, more beautiful, more harmonious and intense than it is in the True Creation of the present, when it is temporarily the anti-universe that must coexist. Even the residents of the highest dimensions are not yet able to imagine the splendor awaiting you all at the stage of global overrun. It will be something magnificent, wonderful, and in all respects perfect, that it is not even possible to describe it remotely by your words. I promise you that you have something to look forward to.

Michal Rafael: Thank You. Finally, I would like to return to our mission of God's Family. What everything will change for this planet by re-vibrating of Jana and her closest co-workers?

The Lord Jesus Christ: The time when My direct incarnation of Jana, as the first in history, to leave this reality through a re-vibrating experience, is literally "knocking on the door". Many things will change for the planet and its inhabitants, of which only the most important will be highlighted. When Jana and her/our closest co-workers move to the Spiritual Center of God's Family in the 5th dimension on the New Earth, an era of accelerated transformation of part of the prepared humanity will begin. By the end of this era there will be a physical division of the Earthmen, from which those with love in the heart will move into the positive state, while all evil, materialistic, egoistic, arrogant, envious, unforgiving and other way negative people will remain in 3D to depict a life without God with chips under the skin under the rule of the Pseudocreators. People who come into contact with the Team of God's Family here at Zero will witness revolutionary changes and miracles with their own eyes. Shortly after the Goddess re-vibrates, we will publish the first photos and videos from the 5th dimension of the positive state and in this activity we will continue to do so. This unusual event with evidence of life outside this planet will plant spiritual seeds into many human beings, within them, who will sooner or later germinate and help the awakening individuals in their transformation into a new world. For several years until the division of humanity has been completed, the mission of God's Family will operate on Zero with no limits, visiting those who are ready and willing to meet personally the feminine nature of The Lord Jesus Christ and our close co-workers in perfect subtle bodies. The elites will continue to play "dead beetles" and will not "advert" us in the media or anywhere else, that is why the mission information will only reach those who have in plan it for their soul, regardless of whether these individuals respond positively or negatively to the whole thing. The main source of information will be our renewed site <http://bozirodina.cz> and several friendly alternative sites. As many of you already know, our actions will not only be limited to this planet, but also to all dimensions of the True Creation and the Zone of Displacement, so that our Team brings experience from both opposing states. From the Zone of Displacement, thanks to My perfect synchronization, more quickly and more efficiently an increasing number of beings will convert directly into My loving arms. Each of our close co-workers on the New Earth in 5D and in part on Zero in 3D will focus on what he/she was created for and what his/her main mission is. In collaboration with other sentient entities coming from worlds unknown to you, step by step, we end the duration of the negative state and give everyone the opportunity to follow us from the darkness of the anti-universe to love and harmony in the True Creation. We will complement each other, and since this most important mission in the history of the Multiverse will be coordinated directly by Me, no one and nothing will be able to disrupt and stop it, on the contrary, the most suitable and best conditions will be created for its course. On the New Earth, we will all communicate in Czech, the most perfect, most apposite and accurate language that was created by Me, The Lord Jesus Christ, to serve for the full-valued communication of people of the new age. Until the 16th part of the Spiritual School was published, it was a secret that I created the Czech language directly, and with the help of selected co-workers, I transferred it to a territory that had been pre-selected as the place where God's mission would take place. Communication will take place both orally and especially telepathically, so there will be no misunderstanding of other planetary languages. After the launch of the mission of God's Family, an increased supply of transforming energies will flow to planet Zero, which will continue to rise and culminate in the Event/Warning, when I will appear to every man over the age of 7. This supply from the galactic center will be halted after the division of humanity, when it would be devastating to all who choosing a negative way of life every day. However, the experience of the Event will remain in each participant's genetic memory, so ultimately it will help find the way back to the positive state even to those who remain on Zero after the arrival of the Pseudocreators. Although living conditions in this dimension will continue to deteriorate and artificially induced international tensions escalate, every My co-worker in the 3th dimension will have the highest protection. The God's Family's several years of activity on planet Zero before the division of mankind will be a gold period in the just ending history of this world from the spiritual point of view, when the highest degree of truthful information is freely available directly from Me and My co-workers, before the Pseudocreators arrive, and this reality falls into Hells. The light with the start of God's mission will take its position and help find the way for anyone who desires to live in love along side The Creator of everything and everyone, The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family. This light and My love first liberate part of mankind and later all of beloved God's children.

Michal Rafael: Thank You for Your wise words.

The Lord Jesus Christ: Thank you for recording this conversation and all of you for reading it. That is all it need to announce to this dialogue. I love you very much.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family | May 24, 2018

SECOND CONVERSATION

THE MISSION OF GOD'S FAMILY IN ENGLAND AND OTHER FACTS REVEALED

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: Beloved representatives, co-workers and friends of God's Family, it has been almost seven years since we recorded the first dialogue between Me and the transmitter Míša Roj, which became part of the book Conversations with The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family. In the following period, it was necessary to suspend the writing of this book for spiritual reasons and focus on transmitting the Word of God through platforms other than the Conversations. The current phase of the development of the Mission of God's Family and the general spiritual atmosphere now require that we continue the gradual recording of this work. The Conversations are and will continue to be among the six key books of multiverse significance on whose content and revealed ideas the successful process of eliminating the negative state vitally depends. For a better understanding of this fact, I will repeat in the following few lines the information that I have formulated elsewhere in the past.

The three sources of the first dose of The New Revelation of The Lord Jesus Christ (transmitted by the first transmitter, Peter Daniel Francuch) consist of:

- The New Revelation of The Lord Jesus Christ - corresponds with the spiritual mind and dimension
- Corollaries to The New Revelation of The Lord Jesus Christ - corresponds to the mental (intermediate) mind and dimension
- Dialogues with The Lord Jesus Christ - corresponds with the physical (external) mind and dimension

The three sources of the second dose of The New Revelation of The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family consist of:

- The New Revelation of The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family - corresponds with the spiritual mind and dimension
- Additions of The New Revelation of The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family - corresponds with the mental mind and dimension
- Conversations with The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family - corresponds with the physical (external) mind and dimension

Now I would like to get to the actual summary of the following conversation. It will deal primarily with the expedition of our representatives Míša and Péťa Vyskočil to England, which took place from 23 to 27 August 2024. In England, they met with another member of our Team, Martinka Mareková, to together take trips to interesting places in this country. However, the conversation will also address other matters, such as the areas of spiritual work of My representatives in the context of their qualities brought into harmony with the ideas of The New Revelation. We will also focus on the topic of false limbo and false paradises. We will also focus on selected aspects of the meeting in Bystrá, Slovakia, which took place a few days after the end of England Mission. I wish you a pleasant reading (or listening in the case of those who consume God's Word in audio version).

Míša: Beloved Lord Jesus Christ God's Family, the time has come for us to recapitulate from a spiritual point of view the trip to England, where I went for the second time in my life. After seventeen months since my last visit, when I visited London with Verunka Kopřivová and David Ošť'adal, accompanied by Martinka Mareková, I went to the British Isles again, this time with another member of our Team - Péťa Vyskočil. It was the second half of August 2024, and it had been less than two weeks since our stay in Poland. I was very glad for the opportunity to see England again, because for a long time I had felt that I would like to go there, preferably in a warmer season than during my first visit, and to see with my own eyes other places than just cosmopolitan London. This began to come true on the morning of August 23rd, when I, accompanied by Hanka Kreperátová and Ivanka Potůčková, went to the Prague-Ruzyně airport, where we met Péťa. After saying goodbye to Hanka and Ivanka, we went to the checkpoints, after passing them through we had no choice but to wait for boarding. Meanwhile, we watched the runway traffic through the big windows. At one point we saw a smaller Airbus landing, not knowing that it is a machine that will soon transport us to England.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: At that moment, you could not have guessed that you would soon board it, because the aircraft was not in the pink-blue-white corporate colors of your company Wizz Air. Although you were traveling under its auspices, in this case, a machine of the Spanish company Privilege Style transported you to England. The fact that you did not know how things were in this regard while waiting for the flight was a reflection of the principle of the gradual revelation of the Truth. None in My Creation can know the absolute Truth in its entirety, because he/she would not be able to bear it due to his/her relativity. Because of this, the absolute Truth is released into being and existence in relative derivatives, which are subsequently accepted and assimilated by sentient entities. The closer they come to Me, the more they are able to absorb this Truth and use it for their unceasing spiritual growth. No one can know everything in advance. This also applies to your daily life on planet Zero. You don't know in advance what adventures and experiences you will have in the near, medium and distant future. Everyone can only have a certain theoretical outline of what and how it will be, but even that can never be completely complete, and most importantly, it cannot capture future adventures and experiences in practical terms.

The situation is somewhat different in the territory of the positive state, where beings know their soul plan in advance, but even in this case it is only on a theoretical basis. It is only at the phase of experiential fulfillment of the individual stages of the soul plan that sentient entities come to know the content of their mission in its reality, purity and authenticity. So also in the True Creation it is true that no one can know everything in advance, because everyone is limited by his/her relative condition, which naturally cannot contain all the knowledge of his/her self-conscious "I am", which develops until eternity, approaches My absolute and discovers in himself/herself ever new potential and new abilities, leading the bearer of life to gain unsuspected kinds of consciousness. In the context of this interpretation, it is also necessary to mention that just as no one is able to grasp all knowledge about himself/herself, he/she is not able to dispose of the whole Truth about other beings or perhaps about the whole Multiverse. Whatever the character of the Truth, therefore, its absorption takes place successively on all three levels of being and existence. This was reflected in the above-mentioned matter of a aircraft landing with foreign corporate colours, in which you had no idea that you would soon be sitting in it and taking off into the sky.

Another correspondence related to a different than expected aircraft was connected to the Spanish essence. The company Privilege Style, in whose corporate colours you have moved to England, is, as I said above, a Spanish company. Because you traveled to the United Kingdom knowing that you were not traveling there just like that, but to do another portion of spiritual work under My guidance as members of the Family of God's Team, your connection with the mentioned company reflected the specific position of Spain, which together with Russia, the Czech Republic and Slovakia, occupies in relation to being and existence and pseudo-being and pseudo-existence. As I have announced in the past, the position of these countries, nations and their languages is the most suitable for the purpose of spreading My New Revelation, so that from their spheres in the spiritual and intermediate worlds the Word of God can penetrate in the desired manner to other areas and other nations, thus creating a solid basis for the elimination of the negative state. For this purpose, it was necessary that the first portion of the Word of God, transmitted by Peter D. Francuch, be translated from English first into the four other languages spoken by the populations of the countries mentioned above. In their privileged group, to which the word "Privilege" in the airline's name refers in a hidden sense, in addition to Spain, Russia, the Czech Republic and Slovakia, also includes the United States of America, or its English-speaking population, and to some extent the populations of other English-speaking countries. In a very similar, but not quite the same position as the United States of America in a spiritual sense, we can also include the United Kingdom, where English has its historical home and where the negative state has also arisen. However, for spiritual reasons I have entrusted the transmission of the first portion of The New Revelation to the territory of North America, where Petr D. Francuch moved after his departure from Czechoslovakia. It is precisely because the United States of America is home to the largest number of English-speaking people that this country has become the most suitable base for the transmission of the Word of God under the auspices of My New Nature, as it has been from the 1980s until the beginning of the new millennium. By combining the above factors, this country, together with its population, can occupy a central position among other Anglophone units, making it one of those enumerated states that occupy a key position in relation to being and existence and pseudo-being and pseudo-existence in connection with the multidimensional spread of The New Revelation. The greatest importance in this sense was initially held by the English-speaking population, but only until most of My Word was written down through Peter D. Francuch and the spiritual fruits of the translations of My books from the first portion into Spanish, Russian, Czech and Slovak began to ripen. This happened at the time of the transmission of the first volume of the Dialogues with The Lord Jesus Christ, when the nations of the four countries mentioned came into play, thanks to which the spread of the Word of God in the structure of the Multiverse was accelerated many times. Although The New Revelation has penetrated over the several decades of its existence to members of other nations whose ranks are gradually expanding, Spain, Russia, the Czech Republic, and Slovakia remain the most important with their populations in the spectrum of the topic under discussion. Next to them, the United States of America, which is still the most important of all English-speaking countries in the context of the topic described, remains at the same level. In My eyes, of course, all countries and their nations are equal, none more valuable than the other, only each fulfilling a different role in relation to Creation. While the role of the aforementioned units and their populations lies in an absolutely crucial connection with the existence of The New Revelation and the expansion of its Truth, the role of the other countries and nations on planet Zero is original, irreplaceable and extremely beneficial in other ways. All of them are therefore equally valuable within their uniqueness. Thus the usefulness of the present cycle of time can be successfully fulfilled, thanks to which it opening up space for the future fullness of life in the positive state.

Thanks to the spiritual factors operating "behind the scenes" and the correspondences "at the scene", your trip to England may have led to an even deeper integration of the mentioned nations into the process of spreading The New Revelation in the multidimensional structure of the Multiverse, and that is based on a special focus on the Anglophone nation of the United Kingdom, having a mediated positive impact on the other Anglophone nations. In areas related to the origin and maintenance of the negative state, the Word of God could thus become even more accessible. This spiritual work built on previous efforts made in connection with the London Mission. With the participation of you, Péťa, Martinka and the other members of our Team, who assisted you on this journey from the position of the immaterial levels, further prerequisites for the future complete elimination of all evils and falsities were established. Since you entered England, the keep ongoing spiritual enlightenment in the hells has gained a new impetus which has removed some of the significant obstacles that have prevented the Word of God from penetrating some of its aspects into the hells of the conservative wing of the Pseudocreators, as well as their subordinate areas with many sentient entities. They can now more easily wake up from their miserable state of mind and convert to limbo based on their free decision. The visit to England has in some respects weakened the power of the high-ranking representatives of hells who choose to remain in their present positions, while in a positive way it has strengthened those who no longer wish to reside in the anti-universe and desire to depart into My arms. Through the outpouring of a new portion of My light, revealing previously unsuspected parts of the ugly nature of evils and falsities, the beings thus prepared have been motivated to receive Love within themselves, aided by their ability to perceive the beautiful and encouraging fruits of our long-standing work. At the same time, there has been a strengthening of God's representatives and co-workers working in hells within the so-called resistance, who, in accordance with the principles of Love, are involved in spreading the highest Truth. This is happening even in the deepest hells where My Team already has a firm representation. In addition, your presence beyond the Channel has awakened to life some hitherto "dormant" positive components of the United Kingdom and at the same time other Anglophone countries, which have since been used by My Providence as part of an effort to eliminate the negative state. These state units, together with their nations, will thus henceforth fulfil other parts of their positive potential, thus capitalising on the good that was invested in them at their origin and during their formation. They will exhaust the potential of their existence without a remainder, exactly as necessary to fulfill the overall usefulness of the presence of planet Zero in Creation.

The aircraft you used to travel to meet Martinka had a white top and a dark blue bottom. The correspondence of these colours results from the dual functioning of planet Zero, where positive and negative aspects collide. The aforementioned colors also marked the overall duality of the Multiverse, which is, however, temporarily limited to the current cycle of time. While good can do without evil, the reverse is not true, as the followers of some pseudo-spiritual doctrines think. When looking at this air machine, it was noticeable that the white color on the upper fuselage and entire wings was predominant. On this fact it has been shown that the principles originating with Me always have the upper hand in the overall structure of Creation, since they originate in the absolute, whereas their opposite is exhaustive and finite due to its relative source. The negative state is therefore on the defensive. The space between the two surfaces of the aircraft was filled with narrow strips of paler shades of blue and one strip of brown, which expressed the transition area between the zone of displacement and the zone of placement, that is, that part of Creation where the converted beings go before they enter My Kingdom. While the brown stripe was the strongest, most distinct and most unique, the others appeared to be merely a fading reflection of the deep blue colour present on the underside of the Airbus. This division referred to the subdivision of limbo into different levels. All individuals who have just undergone a conversion pass from hells to the lowest level, which in a way is the closest to the anti-universe and which because of this specificity is corresponded with the brown stripe. For less burdened sentient entities, a stay at this level may be a brief affair. For some, this area may even be a kind of transit section through which they reach the higher levels of limbo. Other burdened entities, on the other hand, depending on the extent of their spiritual burdens, may stay in this level considerably longer. Každý postupuje svým individuálním tempem. Because relationships in limbo are no longer based, for example, on mutual rivalry and hatred, no one has the need to push one's progress "by force", to the detriment of others, in order to get ahead of others. Such an act would be doomed to failure in limbo because it is based on negative intent. Sentient entities in the neutral state know that they have ample time and non-time to prepare for their entry into the positive state, and they have the knowledge that full acceptance, understanding, internalization, and application of the ideas and principles contained in The New Revelation are essential to its attainment. A different situation prevails in the false limbo, located in the zone of displacement, to which those beings who adopt the principles of false love can "convert" from a certain region of hells. By this misguided love, which is in reality non-love, are characterized not only the inhabitants of the false limbo, but also the members of the false paradises, of which there are a considerable number in the anti-universe. In these spheres of the zone of displacement, spiritual principles are denied under the guise of external positivity, nobility, gentleness, kindness, goodness, compassion, mercy, understanding, empathy, etc. Thus the apparently positive qualities and principles that characterize sentient entities in false limbo or in false paradises are only apparent, superficial, illusory, insincere, artificial, and uninternalized in the heart. Some of My representatives in the Team of God's Family, whose part of their mission was to immerse themselves in the concept of false love, are already processing these spiritual burdens with varying degrees of success during their service journey in the gross material world. Through their example, those who originally accepted this insidious kind of dislike as their own and who thought they were either in the positive state or in the neutral zone, where they thought they had arrived through breaking out of the web of evils and falsities, find their way out of false paradises and false limbo. The false neutral zone differs from the true limbo in that it is much smaller and does not contain the pure Truth as given in the books of The New Revelation. It contains only distorted information that is a mere parody of God's Word, which it contradicts in character. This information is a ingeniously disguised falsity, keeping beings in a delusion of which they are unaware, because they live under the illusion that they are feeling, thinking, acting and doing right and in accordance with the nature of the positive state. The path out of this illusion is shown to them in the most effective way in gradual steps by those of My representatives who, in their spiritual progress, are themselves shedding the qualities of false love, thus becoming personified examples that sentient entities can follow and thereby move into the true arms of God.

False love takes many forms. It manifests itself more in some qualities, in others, on the contrary, less. If it manifests itself less, it leaves room for the so-called visible, at first sight apparent evil. Nothing is only black or white, which is why every inhabitant of hells and planet Zero manifests a mix of false love and apparent evil in varying degrees of representation, different from case to case. The members of the Team of God's Family, through the various types of their spiritual burdens, linked to the nature of their inner settings, are in charge of a diverse range of both of these evils for the purpose of purifying them and liberating sentient entities from hells. By individual progress on the spiritual path, each one becomes ever closer to one's eternal Parent, that is, to Me, in an ever-expanding palette of areas of life. In this way, in cooperation with My other helpers, working in various places of true and false existence and being, they lend a helping hand to all who no longer want to remain in separation from The Lord Jesus Christ (The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family). In this way, each one of them individually and all of them together are contributing to fulfilling My plan for the elimination of the negative state.

What are the main areas of spiritual work into which My representatives are shedding the light of the ideas of The New Revelation? It is especially about cultivating humility, thanks to which God's representative can act from the position of his/her heart and not leave room for decisions stemming from the ego. Humility makes a man spiritually rich, his interior becomes purer and his connection to Me stronger, thanks to which the functionality of his intuition more efficient. Humility protects its bearer from trying to show off his strengths, to dazzle others and to show the better side of oneself in an effort to please. It also leads him to an effort to try as often as possible to check his inner settings, motivations and intentions in an ever-expanding number of aspects of life.

Another area of spiritual work is an effort not to exalt oneself above others. The individual thus loses the tendency to look at the others "through the fingers" and to consider them as less worthy bearers of life, he/she does not try to exert his/her power over them and "trample" them into the ground. Instead, he/she approaches them with openness, cordiality, respect, deference, tolerance, perceiving them as equal partners, even though they may not agree with them and even though these partners may be on a completely different spiritual level.

Another area of spiritual work on oneself involves an effort not to compete or rival with others, because everyone should understand that progress on the path to the positive state is individual for everyone and results from his/her desire, willingness, and effort to get rid of incorrect inner settings, and therefore spiritual deposits, which should be achieved on the basis of pure principle, not in an effort to outdo others, to show himself/herself to be a better son of God or a more exemplary daughter of God. Not competing with others is also manifested in the decision not to force one's truth, one's opinion and one's point of view on the other at any cost.

He/she who work honestly on himself/herself spiritually should not look for faults in others, but in himself/herself, which is another area related to the path in the light of The New Revelation. Its readers and practitioners should be aware that they are only capable of changing themselves, and in doing so they can become an example for others who may or may not take from this example what is necessary to bring about their own change. He/she who point to the imaginary splinter in the eye of others, but do not see the beam in his/her own eye, cannot become more like Me because he/she are wasting his/her energy on something that is contrary to God's laws. Talking about others in their personal presence or absence, arising from impure intent, slandering them, giving them unsolicited advice, and looking at them from without rather than within, is one of the manifestations of the ego, the influence of which readers and practitioners of The New Revelation are gradually trying to diminish.

Another aspect of spiritual work, among those already mentioned above, consists in the effort of My followers to get rid of their attachment to this life and material goods, which, according to the principles of The New Revelation, are not to become not the goal, meaning and purpose of living life, but its means. It is not wrong at all if one of God's representatives owns more material goods and experiences financial abundance, but what is important is how he/she treats his/her personal possessions. Unless he/she prefers the material part of his/her earthly existence to the spiritual dimension of his/her life, he/she avoids being a slave to these external affairs. Instead, one opens the way to connect the spiritual (inner) with the material (outer). In such a case, he/she can utilize this material for positive purposes that do not bind his/her soul or attach him/her to the earthiness. Two thousand years ago, in the body of Jesus, I preached that people should not store up treasures on the ground where moth and rust destroy them and where thieves dig and steal them. They should store them in heaven. These are treasures such as pure faith and trust in Me, Love, Wisdom, positive intentions, and in general the application, if possible, of all the ideas I have clearly revealed to you in the books of The New Revelation. Thanks to them, everyone can store treasures in heaven, regardless of whether he/she has more material goods in the external world or lives very modestly with few financial resources. He/she who follows in My footsteps can never experience scarcity, however small his/her physical income may be. He/she is always taken care of.

The next area of spiritual work for My representatives consists in the realization that one cannot play savior without connecting with Me. How can anyone be a positive example to anyone and effectively deliver sentient entities from captivity if he/she himself /herself does not follow the principles of God's spiritual laws? Only one who walks in the Truth becomes the Truth, and even then he/she should not feel like someone who is more than others. The higher some being stands on his spiritual level, the more he is willing to help those of low-ranking without boasting and feeling like he's in the spotlight. The more the representative of God is closer to My absolute Essence, the more understanding he has for others, whatever they are, and the more interested he is in assisting them in their spiritual transformation, and in having an understanding of their momentary abilities, different mentality, different type of perception, different character of feeling and specific needs that these beings have and that need to be taken into account in spiritual work with such individuals. Thus, My representatives try to consider others in as many aspects of their spiritual, mental, and physical of an component personality as possible, making God's representatives even more like Me.

Another aspect of the spiritual work of the members of the Mission of God's Family lies in the rejection of hypocrisy, when the representatives of the one Source of life learn to be honest with themselves and with others, not to have a contradiction between what they have inside and what they say outside, trying not to hide their intentions, but also not to flaunt their belong to Me in an unnatural sense. The last-mentioned is related to the exaggerated manifestations of Love without Wisdom, which appears sweet on the outside but repulsive and bitter in the stomach, or rather in the heart. He/she who walks in true Love and Wisdom has no need to present himself/herself in this way before Me or before others, does not experience euphoric and intoxicating states of joy and happiness, does not tend to get excited and emotional over "every" matter, is anchored in the inner center and becomes authentic in all his/her manifestations. Nor does he/she tend to make every piece of information in God's Word a dogma, looking at it logically through an external mind, pigeonholding it, and looking to it for a literal guide to solving own problems.

If The New Revelation were to be a literal manual for solving anyone's problems, every diligent reader would fasten to it, becoming its slave without own will or judgment. God's Word is in fact a living manual, a pulsating energy, thanks to which it can speak to each recipient individually and differently each time. Its readers can therefore always perceive something new, deeper and more valuable in it, something they have not been able to distinguish before, and something that expands and complements their previous knowledge. This is related to the progress on their spiritual path. Only those who have the right attitude to The New Revelation, that is, who read the Word through their hearts with pure intent, can correctly understand its meaning, take from it what is necessary for their spiritual self-development, find in it the answers to their questions and effectively use its principles to solve their problems and shortcomings. Those who are connected with The New Revelation, however, often ask themselves or others what they are doing wrong, that they are not moving forward spiritually, that they are dealing with the same snag in their settings over and over again without any sign of a noticeable shift, that is to say, those who are looking for literal and concrete answers from somewhere outside instead of trying to listen to them in their innermost being in connection with My texts, this means that their connection with The New Revelation is of a superficial nature which prevents them from putting the ideas of God's Word into practice.

As stated in the previous lines, God's Word should not be taken as a literal manual to solve a particular problem or to change one's inner settings. Therefore, it is necessary to take a highly individualized approach to The New Revelation. In addition to reading and practicing The New Revelation, however, everyone can also take what is necessary for one's spiritual growth through the example/ situation/ experience/ attitude of someone else who puts the ideas of My principles into practice. Each person living according to My Word can set a natural example for others, from which others can draw in a positive way on a conscious and unconscious level. If My representatives choose to share the matters of their transformation with those who want to take something from them for themselves, whether they are members of the Team of God's Family or people who are not yet connected to The New Revelation, it is a very beneficial and enriching activity. It is important on the side of My representatives to respect the freedom of choice of others, that is, to share their experiences with them only if they themselves request it, or if they are really ready to accept this information. Whether this is really the case, God's representatives will know through their intuition.

Another aspect of the spiritual work of the members of God's Mission consists in the effort not to judge others on the basis of assumptions and not to perceive others on the basis of their external behaviour and actions without engaging the inner perspective. Each one should, for his/her own sake and for the sake of the whole, approach everyone on the basis of an approach flowing from his/her own inner self to the inner self of the other. Thanks to this, he/she is able to perceive the true essence of his/her fellow man in its positive, beautiful and loving nature, which My representative can feel or capture regardless of the potential amount of spiritual burden the other may be carrying. If the inner aspect is used by both interacting parties, and neither party has any internalized negations towards their fellow man, the hearts of both parties can be connected and a good and enriching relationship can be built. If the relationship is inner, sincere and regularly updated on both sides, the room for assumptions disappears. Assumptions can only arise from a lack of communication, from viewing the other from an external position and from internalized negations about the other. If someone is bogged down in the negative state, My representative should be able not to condemn his/her fellow man for this fact, not to look at him/her with contempt, not to mock him/her for it, but to remain in purity of heart and, if possible also in purity of his/her thoughts in relation to him/her. Therefore, God's representatives should not forget their own self-reflection, which will keep them from the tendency to solve the settings of others while forgetting to look for their own mistakes and shortcomings.

Those who are capable of self-reflection can, thanks to a responsible attitude towards themselves, keep themselves humble and not fall into ego-states, realizing that while it is desirable in Love and Wisdom to speak of the settings of others, it is even more necessary to focus on oneself and to explore one's spiritual, mental and physical states and processes in the heart and in the external mind for the purpose of continuing to draw closer to Me. Since no one is infallible, and since everyone can be wrong at any time in their perception and sensing of things "at the scene" and "behind the scenes," intuition itself should be subjected to self-reflection, which can help anyone who applies it to an always better quality approach to others and to themselves in the spirit of The New Revelation. It is also important that My representatives do not have expectations of each other that can lead to disappointment. It is not appropriate if one expects the other to do this or that, to react in this or that way, to fulfil the ideas and wishes of the individual concerned. The consequence of such an action may be, besides disappointment, also a certain mutual misunderstanding, umbrage, injustice, touched ego, etc.

Another aspect of the spiritual work of God's ambassadors on planet Zero consists in the effort to forgive, and to forgive genuinely and wholeheartedly, not just on the surface. Only one who has truly internalized the ideas of The New Revelation is capable of doing so at a level where forgiveness is of lasting validity and it can provide an example to inspire other beings in the zone of displacement. Related to the ability to forgive is the ability to love. Already in the first portion of The New Revelation, more precisely in the Corollaries through Peter D. Francuch, I stated that it is only now that the statement given by Me in the body of Jesus is being fully fulfilled through My representatives, "Love each other as I have loved you, so that people may know that you are My disciples, by the love you show and have." The more you bring the principles of The New Revelation into your relationship with Me, with others and with yourself, the more you love as I, The absolute Lord Jesus Christ (The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family), Who is currently on planet Zero for the second and last time in a human body, this time in the female body of Janička. Her Love for all who wish to be in contact with her is generous, but of course also wise. Based on this, whoever he/she is, Janička welcomes communication with anyone who wishes to be in any kind of contact with her. She is there for all equally, and it is up to each individual to decide what kind of relationship to the Goddess he/she will find and on what character this relationship will be based. Thanks to this, Janička objectively mirrors to everyone the state of one's inner self. Even with those who have not yet found the way to her that they would like at the bottom of their heart, she is ready to begin to develop the beautiful in gradual steps, always to the extent and in the way that the concerned allows by his/her own choices. The readers and practitioners of The New Revelation, by their examples, their relationships, their friendliness, their mutual respect, and all that they experience on a daily basis, are establishing God's Love both in their interactions with each other and in the structure of this planet, that is, loving as I, The Lord Jesus Christ (The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family). This is how My Team consolidates and becomes a Team in the true sense of the word. I thank all those who try to show kindness to their fellow men based on true Love and Wisdom, who are able to say what they really feel, who seek My Presence in others, who do not live "for themselves" but for others and are able to listen to them, provided that the others are also willing to listen to My ambassadors at least to some extent.

As another aspect of the spiritual work of My "people" I can mention their efforts to keep away from spiritual laziness. It can be prevented by accepting full spiritual responsibility for all aspects of one's life. To that end, it is also desirable to take God's Word - as well as one's own involvement in God's Mission - as a priority. Those who make a daily effort to consciously put the ideas of The New Revelation into practice, to examine their intentions and to correct their inner settings, become the exact opposite of those who have bogged down in spiritual laziness.

Related to the above is the following aspect of the spiritual work of My "first line", namely, that of trying not to make excuses for one's role and for the attacks of the negative state. Everyone has different degrees of spiritual burdens, different gifts and talents, differently focused missions. But all have the opportunity to become better and closer to the positive state on all three levels of their personal being and existence, no matter what position they are in at any given moment in their lives. If, for example, someone points out that his/her own view of others is influenced by spiritual burdens and the influence of beings from the zone of displacement, which indeed it is, it is essential that he/she ask questions within himself/herself along the lines of, "What can I do to reduce, remove and dissolve these unwholesome influences? What can I do to work on others from the position of my true self, my real and positive individuality? Am I doing enough and using all my capacities for this purpose? Am I or am I not being too hard on myself in this? If so, how do I let go of my exaggerated demands and let go of expectations of myself?" I am ready to help anyone with this at any time. It is enough to listen to the inner voice, to trust Me and to put your problems and shortcomings in My hands.

The last matter I want to mention about the spiritual work of My ambassadors consists in their effort not to compare themselves with others. Everyone is an original being, nothing like any other being in the Multiverse. As readers and practitioners of The New Revelation incorporate within themselves more and more positive principles, they realize their uniqueness on an ever deeper scale. With the diminishing influences of the ego, God's representatives have less and less tendency to desire what others have, they cease to envy them. On the contrary, they are ever more grateful for what they have, but also for what they do not have, because they have the knowledge that whatever they get or do not get is the best in terms of their eternal life, regardless of the feeling of the external mind. Each one is exactly the way he/she is supposed to be. In this way he/she is most beneficial to the whole of Creation, and thus can perfectly fulfill his/her mission. Not comparing oneself to others means not competing with them, honoring their individuality and The Lord Jesus Christ (The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family) present in them. It also means valuing one's own individuality and uniqueness, which is one of the principles of worshipping the Creator within oneself. He/She who has a positive relationship with Me, with his/her fellowmen and with himself/herself has no need to prove anything before Me, before them or before himself/herself. He/She can be as natural and authentic as possible at any moment.

Miša: Thank you for the initial explanation of the spiritual context of our trip to England and for the extensive topic related to the spiritual work of God's representatives. It is a very important summary of the most essential principles of The New Revelation in a few pages of our conversation. I trust it will be helpful to others as well. I feel that you would like to provide additional information regarding the way of false and true conversions.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: That's exactly right. In the zone of displacement operates a whole series of sentient entities specializing in false conversions from a certain area of hells to false paradises or from hells to false limbo, which are also located inside the anti-universe. They are a kind of guardians deciding who and where to go and whether they "deserve" to leave one sphere of the anti-universe and move to another, without the relocated beings and usually even the guardians themselves knowing that they are in the zone of displacement. The guardians grant what might be likened to "permits" entitling one to enter a false paradise or limbo. The criterion for this relocation is not the knowledge and acceptance of the ideas of My true New Revelation and My Divine Natures, nor the vibrations of true Love. Conversely, a whole range of other factors, excluding those listed above, can be a condition for relocation. Someone can thus get into a false limbo (or paradise) for certain pseudo-merits, as a result of the internalization of wrongly conceived spirituality and misguided spiritual and philosophical ideas, due to the influence of the vibrations of false love, the development of a superficial way of thinking, the building of a relationship with a false interior, etc. The relocation to the false limbo (or paradise) takes place with the exclusion of Me Myself, instead I am replaced by other relative beings existing in the negative state in the same way as there are adepts for false conversion, compared to whom the guardians occupy only a higher pseudo-spiritual position. Whoever converts to true limbo does not move into it through anyone other than Me, The Lord Jesus Christ (The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family), with the simultaneous assistance of My true representatives, whose spiritual hearts, in which I am firmly anchored, serve as a conversion portal for the beings of hells, involving a functioning network of conversion portals anchored at various points in the structure of Creation. In every conversion a certain circle of My assistants is involved, operating not only on planet Zero, but of course also outside it. Therefore, no being returning from the anti-universe is alone in this process. Yet the act of conversion is a highly personal, inner experience for everyone who undergoes it. Therefore, many of its aspects take place only on the level between Me and the concerned God's son or the concerned God's daughter.

If I am talking about true conversions, no one other than Myself and My Providence can actually objectively determine, evaluate and decide to move a given individual from the anti-universe to the neutral state. There is thus a clear distinction between true and false conversions, which in the latter case involve the aforementioned guardians who decide on the relocation of sentient entities on the basis of non-spiritual factors and to the exclusion of My personal Presence, which is replaced in the anti-universe by the presence of The false Lord Jesus Christ (The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family), or by hells a differently conceived and fabricated or constructed Creator. Whoever decides in the depths of his/her heart to accept true Love from the one Source of Life does not need any permission, no sanctification from any other relative sentient entity, nor does he/she need to wait his/her turn in the long queues that often arise in the case of conversions to false limbo (or paradise). There are no multidimensional spaceships launching into true limbo to transport a certain being there, as sometimes happens in the domain of hells. For the process of conversions, guided by My Providence, works indescribably more efficiently, and therefore no external means of transport are needed. The situation will be somewhat different for some people who, at the time of the division of humanity, will be picked up on spacecraft by cosmic people standing on our side. Even these ships, however, do not literally take the beings in question to a neutral state. They will only become a transition point between planet Zero and limbo. These starships will become the place where the raptured become familiar with the overall situation, in order to simultaneously undergo by an increase in vibrations, allowing them to move into limbo without the assistance of vehicles, followed by entry into the realm of the positive state, most often on New Earth. The opposite is the case with false conversions, which are in many cases (of course, not in all) achieved - as I have just mentioned - just by means of the relocation of a given individual by means of a space craft, which in this way takes them to the false limbo (or paradise). Similarly, it will be the case at the time of the division of humanity, when those who, from the point of view of the soul plan, and therefore by their daily choices, have chosen (will choose) to have the experience of being raptured to a false limbo and to a pseudo-New Earth, located in a pseudo-New Universe, will be relocated to this place in a large number of cases precisely by means of spacecraft, operated by cosmic people and other extraterrestrial races, but in this case standing on the side of the negative state. Other earthlings will be transported to alien planets within this gross dimension of the anti-universe, some even within other levels of the zone of displacement - but in that case without a physical body. Most earthlings, however, will depict the victory of the New World Order (NWO) on Planet Zero, which will spiritually fall to the minus one (-1) position and therefore no longer be Zero in the true sense of the word. Sooner or later, however, everyone will wake up and get out of captivity, wherever they are in the zone of displacement. My plan is 100% perfect in all cases and there is no one who will not arrive Home in the end.

I would like to conclude the topic of spiritual progression and regression with the information that in some respects there are basically three groups of beings from hells. The first group wants nothing to do with Me, and thus they are in open negation or false love. The second group is their opposite, those who try to approach Me through spiritually correct means, which bring these sentient entities into My arms. The third group consists of those who try to approach Me, but do so in a misguided way, precisely on the basis of the false love mentioned several times, which convinces and assures them of the truth of their connection with the true Source of life and of the correctness of their path. Through the false love that thrives in the environment of closed hearts and big egos, these beings do not want to accept the fact that they are not serving The true Lord Jesus Christ nor are they being led by Him/Her. They also don't want to admit that it is not My will that they behave the way they behave and act the way they act because they are supporting the interests of the negative state by their attitudes. This is exemplified by some individuals on this planet who belong to the readers of The New Revelation, who, despite their theoretical knowledge of the ideas of the Word of God, do not practice them or practice them only to a very small degree, and thus often fall into a false love, just as is the case with those who have never personally encountered The New Revelation. For example, although they say that they love Me and do not give up on Me, they deny a positive relationship with Me by their inner setting. But I am and will always be ready with Patience and Humility to pull them out of their miserable state when they decide in their hearts to do so. Until then, they will continuously bear the consequences of their negative choices, which they can change at any time. Eventually they too, each at a different time and under different circumstances, will go out of the swamp of evils and falsities, which includes even false love. They will replace it with True Love and join those who have overcome the negative state within themselves.

Miša: Thank you for your excellent explanation on the topic of fake and true conversions. It's clear from your information that you're making things simple, as is the case with the conversions to true limbo you describe. Your Words are also a reminder that not all things are as they appear to some. It's clear to me that everyone has a unique role to play here and everything is in its proper place. Therefore, one cannot be angry with anyone or blame them for anything. Everyone, in their mission, is ultimately contributing to the fulfillment of the purpose of the existence of the negative state and its termination, but only some are serving you and your positive state by embracing and applying the ideas of The New Revelation. If you have nothing to add to the previous topics, we can move on to our current five-day stay in England.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: That's all on previous matters.

Miša: Okay. It was August 23, 2024, and we landed at Luton Airport. Here we waited for Martinka, who came for us by car. Throughout our stay in England it was noticeably cooler than in those days in the Czech Republic, where the heat prevailed.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: The colder weather was mainly due to the fact that you once again found yourself in an area where the negative state has arisen and which is corresponding to the areas of hells associated with that arising. Readers can find more detailed information not only on this issue in the April 1, 2023 Message, London Mission: Spiritual work in the United Kingdom in multidimensional contexts," regarding your first trip to the United Kingdom with Verunka and David.

In England in August 2024, the weather was beautiful, sunny, warm and stable shortly before your visit. This was, in an interior sense, a physical manifestation of the positive spiritual shifts that have been gradually maturing "behind the scenes" since the London Mission. The sun and the warm at that time mirrored, above all, the fact that the territory of the United Kingdom and its collective consciousness has been exposed for some time to the intensified influence of God's energy emanating from both My Natures taking appropriate steps to save the members of the English-speaking population, not only in this island country, but also elsewhere in the world, for whatever positive thing happens in the United Kingdom, where the English-speaking population has its homeland, has a beneficial effect on other countries on Planet Zero which are associated with this language. The positive impact of the transillumination of this area by My energy was felt in a selected spectrum by Martinka, who lives in England and who used the time before your visit, for example, for a trip to beautiful parks.

The fact that the weather began to take a turn for the worse shortly before your arrival signified the activation of forces of negative state, which were "behind the scenes" trying to take steps to provide a defense against the continued activities of our Mission. Even this time, however, they were not allowed to do more than was necessary for the lesson of the entire Multiverse. Thus, their efforts were only partially reflected in the material reality, for example in the temperatures, which were lower than in the previous period, but were relatively pleasant in feeling, except for some episodes. The effort of the negative state was further mirrored in the sky, which, although not as blue as in the days before your arrival, nevertheless you experienced sunny episodes during your trip, which culminated especially on the penultimate day when you visited the city of Cambridge. The effort of the negative state was also evident in the onshore wind, which combined with the lower temperature forced you to wear a sweatshirt, which you could otherwise unbutton or completely put away at other times. In addition, the influence of the dark side was also reflected in the rain, which, however, came down from the sky mostly only when you were at the hotel or in the car. Through all this, it became apparent that the potential of the negative state was greatly limited by the positive forces that you represented and that accompanied you under My auspices. The limitation of the manifestation of evils and falsities resulted both from the degree of My protection, but also from the loss of the potential of the dark side, whose power is increasingly eroding and crumbling to dust as more and more inhabitants of hells choose to convert and as the work of our Mission moves forward successfully. Thus, even in a territory so important to the state of evils and falsities, the positive state had the upper hand in the hidden meaning. It is and will continue to be so. Yet this dominance will not prevent the negative state from its full maturation and manifestation in the reality of Planet Zero and the hells corresponding to it. The superiority of the positive state is and will be manifested in a completely different way than many would suspect, while its nature and manifestations will not be rationally accessible to the sentient minds of the inhabitants of the anti-universe. For the inner character of this superiority must remain largely hidden from the eyes of the members of hells for the sake of the positive state, so that it may be safely preserved until the end of the cycle of time. This superiority will be understood and experienced or perceived in selected aspects by those who work for the positive state and look at things through an inner lens. The dominance of the positive state, resulting from the fact that I, The Lord Jesus Christ (The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family), took spiritual control over Planet Zero, its population, and the entire zone of displacement some time ago, will ensure the successful and eternally irreversible elimination of the negative state in every conceivable and unconceivable aspect. For this to happen, it was necessary to bring an intensified presence of God to the territory of the United Kingdom, first within London Mission, followed seventeen months later by England Mission, which will be followed by My personal visit to the United Kingdom in the summer of 2025 in a human body.

If I am talking about the dominance of the positive state, you too, Míša, have experienced with your fellow men in an individualized way the victory of the positive state in the territory where its negative counterpart is so called "like at home ", both on your first and on your second visit to England. During the second visit, this factor was reflected, for example, in the aforementioned weather, the positive elements of which outweighed the negative ones from an overall perspective. On both visits, this was then reflected in the most important area of all - your inner self, which for most of your time in the island kingdom was in a pleasant state from where these good aspects flowed into its process. Most of the time you spent beyond the Channel you were experiencing higher vibrations, good temper, being in a kind of shared bubble of Love that made for unique moments and experiences in March 2023 and August 2024. Thus, for the second time, you have brought the positive state significantly closer to its negative counterpart and have allowed Love, Truth, and other attributes from Me to prevail within your hearts within the territory of a state that corresponds with the main pillars of the existence of Planet Zero and the zone of displacement. It was the next stage in the process of bringing heaven down to earth. By being primarily an inner matter, this fact gave the process of anchoring the positive state in the territory of its counterpart a deep spiritual dimension with an irrevocable spiritual legitimacy. This has been and is always the case when My representatives have undergone and are undergoing the process of bringing heaven down to earth, which happens continuously in those aspects of their lives that are in accordance with the ideas of The New Revelation. By retaining the factor of inwardness, in the sense of experiencing the positive state, within the United Kingdom, the evils and falsities could be taken away other elements of their power, as well as selected components of their pseudo-creative efforts, standing at the root of the origin of darkness and serving to maintain it. This would not have been achieved if your individualised positive experiences had not taken place right in the territory of the United Kingdom. A further condensed process of elimination efforts, which goes to the roots of evils and falsities, will be radiated into the necessary spheres during My personal visit to this country. As for Péta, who visits England quite regularly as part of his relationship with Martinka, the situation is such that he is constantly updating and reinforcing the positive aspects that have already been incorporated into the structure of this country on a spiritual, mental and physical level already before. At the same time, he also brings new aspects to it. While with him this is done for the masculine principle, Martinka is entrusted with the same for the feminine principle, whereby those imaginary roots of evils and falsities are very effectively exposed and one by one they are pulled out of the anti-universe swamp.

I am aware that we have been assisted as always by all those who have remained in the background of their physical homes, as well as being accompanied by other helpers based in various places in the New Universe, the positive state of True Creation and the zone of displacement. Although we have had different experiences only in three, the rest of you who are related to us have been on incorporeal levels with us. Our spiritual work is always collective, which enables us to operate and work effectively wherever You, Lord Jesus Christ God's Family, need us.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: Yes, that is why I have put together the Team of God's Family, whose members on Planet Zero are a few dozen individuals, while "behind the scenes" the number is indescribably higher. The exact number is now irrelevant. If I gave you that figure, it would make your dolls spin or make you fall off your chair.

Míša: Yes, you always mean well with us, which is why you always reveal to us only what serves our benefit and that of the common good. Now we could focus on a chronological account of our journey across southern England, what do you say?

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: Give it on me, I've been counting on it since eternity that our conversation would go in this direction.

Míša: That's great. After Martinka picked us up at the airport, we headed south towards the coast. It was nice that we were all together, ready to go to explore interesting places. On the way to Bournemouth we stopped in Winchester. Before that we made a short stop at one rest area.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: In the interiors of this rest area, a number of flags of selected countries of the world were hung above you. Your presence under the flags has corresponded to the fact that the working of the Mission of God's Family is influencing on other levels what is happening in the whole world. For strategic reasons, it cannot be revealed how our actions are reflected in events in various aspects of the functioning of human life and society as a whole. However, I can tell you that if the Mission of God's Family were not currently taking place, and if I were not present here a second time, this time in a female body, the world would look different on all three planes of existence than it does now - incomparably worse. Due to the absence of active God's representatives and My feminine incarnation, the necessary balancing of negative energies would not take place, as a result of which the planet would have fallen deeper into the zone of displacement long ago. Creation would thus be deprived of important aspects of knowledge about the nature of the negative state, with the result that it could not be eliminated in all respects.

People would stop at the aforementioned rest stop to sooner or later set off again on their way to their destination. This factor was related to an important aggregate aspect of the roles of the inhabitants of this planet and of the entire zone of displacement, who are only on their way to the goal in the form of inclusion in the positive state, not in the goal itself. So they are somewhere halfway between the beginning of their role in the negative state and the end of their role in the negative state, regardless of whether one is about to receive salvation in a second or at the end of the cycle of time. Only when they reach the goal can they make a final choice in the matter of accepting eternal life at My side, which will have permanent and irrevocable validity. Thus their journey through the negative state, which serves in the ultimate sense to bring about the fullness of the positive state, will be completed and make use of for an extremely good cause. The rest stop as a whole had a correspondence with the limbo, which is indeed a kind of multidimensional rest stop for the converting sentient entities coming into it from the negative state, in which they gain strength during their journey from hells to the paradisiacal worlds, but above all in which they achieve spiritual purification, internalize the ideas of The New Revelation and learn to apply them in practice.

Míša: From the rest stop we continued our journey until we reached Winchester, Hampshire, where we took a short tour of the town. As I later read, Winchester was the capital of England in the 10th and 11th centuries. After the Norman conquest of England by William the Conqueror in 1066, London took over this function. One of the first stops in Winchester was Winchester City Mill, through which the River Itchen flows. In Winchester, we went on to see the statue of King Alfred the Great, reigning more than 1,100 years ago, walked past a roundabout decorated with flowers and a mature tree, then made our way to the adjacent park with its typical English lawn and round islands of flowers. Given the calmness of the place, the well-maintained surroundings and the generally favourable atmosphere, my joy at the opportunity to experience the real England this time and see more of it than on my first visit, for which, however, I am equally grateful, began to be realised. From the park we made our way to Winchester Cathedral, the longest cathedral in Europe and the resting place of the physical remains of some of England's monarchs as well as the writer Jane Austen. After a cursory look inside, we continued into the city streets and saw a few other local landmarks. As we still had a long way to go to the south coast, we did not prolong our stay in Winchester. A visit to this town was a pleasant diversion on the way to Bournemouth.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: As for the Town Mill, under which water was flowing through, it was related to the aspect of underwashing the foundations of the negative state by the dynamically flowing God's energy, upsetting the structure of the pseudo-being and pseudo-existence. I will discuss this correspondence in a different context later in this Message when I describe the Durdle Door rock arch. The pleasant and joyful feelings that you felt in the park, Miša, were again a reflection of the fact that the members of the positive state are standing firmly with Me with you and around you, ready to amplify and enrich the intensity of all the good that was to begin to arise from that day onwards for the benefit of the whole Creation.

The long history of Winchester in connection with your visit and in context of the involvement of those members of the Mission, who have accompanied you on the incorporeal planes, has been to deepen the saving processes concerning beings living in the early times of this nation. The positive impact of the radiated energy of My New and Newest Nature was all the greater because it was once the capital of England. Thanks to its former function, Winchester has a correspondence with all aspects of this country on an incorporeal level, as does London. In this way, the radiated set of new aspects of My Love could spread unhindered into the necessary spheres and in a good sense reach the hearts of many sentient entities. From that moment on, more members of the ancient royal families are converted to limbo as well, returning to the subtlety of their hearts, acquiring feeling, activating the functionality of intuition within themselves, accepting forgiveness, and learning to forgive themselves. They then replace the false spirituality with a true, sincere, heartfelt and close union with the only Source of life, Me, who cares for their gradual transformation into pure and unencumbered children of God.

The saving processes taking place through Jane Austen's essence had an impact especially on female beings, who, due to established conventions, faced considerable difficulties and often became unhappy in finding and experiencing love with men. Her works from the perspective of a woman perfectly depict the social environment and interpersonal relationships of the time, so influenced by the effects of the negative state, and therefore My energy could have had an impact on this group of beings. With the outpouring of Love into areas related to these aspects of human life, conversions of other multitudes of sentient entities may have taken place, to whom the way things are began to be illuminated. The one who has decided to let the amplified presence of God into his/her heart has begun to discover the differences between the organization of society in the negative state and the organization of society in the positive state, including the functioning of interpersonal relationships. Not only did Austen, along with many women and men living in her time (18th and 19th centuries), accept the offer of salvation, but there were other groups of life-bearers from different historical periods who no longer wanted to continue the distorted way of sharing their individualities on a partnership and friendship level. Those who have gone into limbo, thanks to the study of The New Revelation, are already learning the fulfilling beauty of relationships in the positive state that bring joy, fulfillment and freedom, preserving and developing the individuality of each of My daughters or My sons.

The physical length of Winchester Cathedral referred, in a hidden meaning, to the length of the duration of the pseudo-being and pseudo-existence of the zone of displacement. It also reflected the efforts of the members of hells to deny the principles of true spirituality. Although the temple ship is an impressive 168 meters long, it has an end, just as the very existence of the anti-universe has an end. It is long, but it is not endless. Therefore the efforts of the members of the anti-universe to remain in dead life have their own exhaustiveness. Due to the relative source of evils and falsities, sooner or later there will come a time in each individual when he will no longer have any motivation for denying the principles of true spirituality.

From the ground, the cathedral looks imposing, which corresponds to the fact that for the inhabitants of Planet Zero and the zone of displacement, their reality usually appears as amazing, solid, stable, as the only true one, which is natural in their eyes and allows them to use the full potential of their life. On the contrary, if one were to look at the cathedral from a sufficient height, that is, from an perspective, one would perceive this building as unmissable, but no longer as imposing. One would see its limitations and consider it a mere fragment in the overall development of the city set in the overall context of the landscape. The position of the perspective symbolizes both My view and the view of the members of the positive state, which we apply to the presence of pseudo-being and pseudo-existence within Creation. From our own positions, each differently, but nevertheless similarly, we perceive the negative state as only a transitional stage, whose existence for us is not nearly as long as for those who are directly in its domain, who consider their false reality as something that has always been there and will always be there, because they are unable to see beyond a certain horizon when looking into the past or into the future. The negative state thus appears to Me and to the members of the true realms of being and existence quite differently than to its members themselves. It is not solid, stable, true and natural for us. We perceive a deep meaning in it, yet it is to us but a tiny piece in the total mosaic of the history of Creation, which was better off without its former absence, and which will be immensely relieved after its elimination, because then the fullness of life of the positive state will reign for ever and ever.

Your errand through the historic streets of Winchester reflected the process of bringing change to the old order of hells. More specifically, it correlated with the bringing of God's Love into specific single parts of the anti-universe caring for the distribution of the inverted energies into its various sections. The described components of the anti-universe can be likened to arteries feeding its individual sections. Due to the advanced stage of the multidimensional work of the Mission of God's Family, a considerable amount of positive aspects are already circulating in these energy riverbeds, which are increasingly illuminating the zone of displacement in a spiritual sense. My Providence and the activities of God's representatives are more and more perceptibly and visibly taking rule of the anti-universe, which I fully established already at the acquisition of The New Nature "Lord Jesus Christ" in connection with the fusion of Jesus with the absolute before Christmas 1987. As hells become more intensely illuminated, their ugly nature is coming to the surface more and more, which contributes to the growing number of saved beings and the shrinking of the dark domain.

Miša: Towards evening we arrived in the coastal town of Bournemouth in Dorset, the holiday area where the 155 kilometre long Jurassic Coast begins. After checking into a small hotel and having dinner at a local bistro, we went to see the wide sandy beach. The sun was just setting, shining through the cloudy sky. I looked across the sea to the south and imagined that somewhere in the distance across the English Channel was the coast of French Normandy, which I had once visited. On the beach we were accompanied by the wind, quite cold for August (in Central European terms). Then we went to see the local pier, at the end of which were children's amusements.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: First of all, I would like to focus on the significance of the dinner situation. While you were enjoying your meal, you watched the movement of people on the street through the window. Within a short while, given the multicultural nature of England, you saw representatives of many human races. Your attention focused on these people reflected the broad scope of My Mercy extended to all members of earthly humanity, regardless of current genetic makeup of their gross material shells, mentality, beliefs and everything else. For God's Love, focusing on the very essence of the life-bearers and the positive characteristics of the human dimension of their personality, is unconditional and falls on all equally, whoever they are, because each is a unique bearer of aspects of The Lord Jesus Christ (The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family) in relative form. This fact, however, is not realized by the beings on planet Zero and in the zone of displacement, with a few exceptions. This ignorance was displayed in the movements, expressions, dialogues and thoughts of the people on the street who formed the backdrop to your dinner at the bistro. However, each one of them will be saved and returned to My side in due time. In the new cycle of time there will be no one who will not know and accept Me. They will all be freed from everything that the negative state has put into them, thus entering into the true condition of their spiritual, mental and physical life.

Your view of the street through the glass in a spiritual sense corresponds with the aforementioned principle of perspective, which characterizes the members of the positive state and especially the inhabitants of the New Universe in relation to the events on planet Zero and in the entire anti-universe. They know what is happening in its territory, they perceive what is occurring in it, they are involved in helping its beings, yet they are not part of the negative state in a way that they identify with it within. Your intake of food, then, in this context, reflected the conscious connection to the Source of Life that sentient entities in the true spheres of Creation dispose, and by which, of course, all other God's representatives operating anywhere on planet Zero and in the zone of displacement characterize.

I would now like to focus on Bournemouth itself. Because of the geographical location of the city on the south coast of England, your stay here reflected the principle of lowering to the lowest level to which My luminous co-workers, including Myself, had incarnated during their seconment on planet Zero, so that together we could accomplish all that was necessary to fulfill My perfect plan. By the lowest level is meant the specific position of the gross material world, located at the most external position of Creation, where its inhabitants fulfill their missions within the most limited physical bodies that ever were and ever will be in the Multiverse. The visit to the coast of southern England also reflected a type of collective spiritual work carried out in the deepest hells, primarily related to creating the consequential conditions for the future salvation of the conservative wing of the Pseudocreators. To save them from the clutches of evils and falsities, several steps have already been taken in the previous phases of the working of My representatives, and others were taken during your stay in England. Other steps will then be taken in this matter in the course of future times, and always in the way that is most appropriate from the point of view of My Providence.

The area of Great Britain described, that is, the coastal as well as the inland part of southern England, including London, is one of those parts of the United Kingdom which, when compared with other parts of the country, are linked with the deepest hells in the widest variety of aspects, to which these units are predisposed not only by their physical location, but also by many other hidden factors. Whilst other areas of southern England you visited were related to the aforementioned help to conservative Pseudocreators, the town of Bournemouth itself, in connection with your presence, was primarily related to helping the core Datasystem, as part of the next stage of preparations for its future conversion. The positive experiences you had together in this city in those days of August, and through which you did not let yourselves be fundamentally limited by the negative state, contributed to this. Thanks to this, new sets of Love aspects have been incorporated into the core of the Datasystem, which will allow its core, among many other factors, to successfully transition into the limbo that will occur at the very end of this cycle of time, so that it can purify itself and integrate as a reborn being into the purity of being of the New Multiverse. The anti-universe super-intelligence with the corrupted nature of the male and female principle, called "Allah/Acria", will become a thing of the past forever. The connection between Bournemouth and its core lies, among other factors, in the fact that it is located roughly in the centre of the south coast of England. Thanks to this, there are countless unique aspects related to the functioning of the Datasystem at non-material levels that are not manifested to such an extent elsewhere. It is their presence that has facilitated the success of the collective spiritual work carried out in the remembered core and in the involved hells of the Pseudocreators who are linked to Allah/Acria in a very fundamental way.

My protection I have been providing in conjunction with your representation of My New and Newest Nature and the various aspects of the positive state has allowed you to experience time together in the pleasant vibrations. Only sometimes have you been reminded for a moment that from the perspective of the negative state, you are not welcome in this territory. One of the few such moments was the physical pain, or rather spasms, that Martinka experienced for a limited period of time, culminating on the pier while watching the waves. On the pier, the work being done in the deep structures of the Datasystem had reached a peak, which, among other things, was manifested in the condition that Martinka was experiencing. However, this condition did not last long. With the initiation of the next phase of the exodus of the fallen beings, Martinka's unpleasant physical condition subsided while you were still on the pier. It is no coincidence that all of this has occurred in such a place, for the pier on the external plane embodied, in a hidden meaning, in conjunction with you, the process of infusion of positive aspects into the depths of the negative state, represented by the sea into which the pier ran and above whose surface you were. As you well remember, essentially the same correspondence manifested itself on your group visit to the pier in the Polish town of Międzyzdroje about two weeks earlier. Of course, you were not alone on the immersion process of the energies of Love into the darkness of the zone of displacement, both in Poland and in England. You have been assisted, as is well known, by countless God's helpers on the non-material planes.

The children's amusements at the end of the Bourtnemouth pier, which you have already mentioned, reflected at first sight the attractive glitz of the pseudo-being and pseudo-existence which seeks to arouse interest, admiration, favour and affection in its members. It keeps the inhabitants of the anti-universe unable to penetrate the understanding of the true nature of evils and falsities, it leads them to a wrong conception of spirituality, it encourages them to cultivate closed interiors and to incline to externals. The apparent charm, attractivity and beauty of this glitz is compensated by its corrupt nature. But what to imagine under this glitz? It is literally anything tangible or intangible that the negative state tries to evoke in its slaves something worth (perversely) loving. At this place, I would like to let all readers know that I do not condemn children's or adult fun on carousels or slides, but I support it, as long as it is done with a pure intention. After all, My positive state is fun itself! I was merely describing one of the main correspondences that these attractions at the end of the pier had in relation to your visit and in the presence of other factors. This does not mean, however, that I am opposed to their use in this or any other case. And here we come to the second main co-meaning of those amusement attractions on the pier, this time mirroring aspects of the positive state whose inhabitants are in the process of living a creative, playful, carefree and simple-hearted life. The combination of the amusement elements installed at the end of the pier, in conjunction with your presence in a spiritual sense, referred to the fact that the perpetuation of the described qualities of true life takes place even in the deepest hells, including the very core of the Datasystem. Even conservative Pseudocreators have an awareness of what life is like in the Kingdom of God, somewhere deep within themselves. However, it is an awareness to which they have no conscious access due to their encapsulation and which is therefore in an inactive state. It is the same with the other beings in the anti-universe. However, the increasing inflow of My energy, including the ideas of God's Truth, is leading more and more sentient entities to internalize the aforementioned nature of information about the positive state, thus gradually reactivating that deeply rooted type of awareness within themselves. The higher the degree of reactivation they achieve, not only in this respect, the more their previously suppressed, but otherwise natural desire to return to the True Home deepens.

Miša: On the way to the beach, whose spiritual correspondences you have just described, we walked through a picturesque park where ornamental flowers, including palm trees, were planted within pleasant-looking rockeries. We then passed through this place also on the way back. The narrow park, winding through the development of houses and streets present on one side and the other side, was crossed by a canal that gave the place a certain distinctive character.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: The location of the park during your walk referred to the presence of elements of the positive state brought to the territory of its negative counterpart, expressed by the surrounding development. In other words, it mirrored the process of bringing the true principles of Love into the center of the zone of displacement. The flowing of this process in its permanent changes and updates, providing it with unceasing freshness and novelty, was symbolized in the given situation by the flow of the freshwater canal. The silent and subtle movement of its water then referred to the fact that the energy of the positive state operating in the anti-universe is harmonious, propitiatory, affable and humble. This was a great contrast with the sea, whose water corresponded with the zone of displacement. However, even the waters of the English Channel were calm at this place that evening. Gentle wavelets washed the sandy beach in a lazy pace and returned to the Atlantic waters. In a spiritual sense, it was a depiction of the situation in the Multiverse, the displaced part of which is running out of forces with which it will no longer be able to regain the initiative in relation to the True Creation. The gentle wavelets, therefore, also signified the subordination of the hells to My New and Newest Nature, which dominated the negative state.

As for the small hotel that provided you with a roof over your head for two nights in Bournemouth, the character of its interiors symbolized in a spiritual sense by an aspect of the modesty and humility that abounds among the inhabitants of My Kingdom. The accommodation facility was relatively small in terms of the size of its rooms, corridors and staircases, but it had everything you needed to quickly achieve your satisfaction. The small hotel, created by converting a two-storey residential building, was clean, the friendly staff made you feel welcome and a typical English breakfast awaited you in the morning. These factors expressed other aspects of the positive state and its inhabitants, including the principle of sufficiency and abundance expressed by the aforementioned breakfast. Your room, located on the upper floor, was again an embodiment of your proximity to the placed zone of Creation, whose energy you represented in England and transmitted, together with other representatives working "behind the scenes", into the non-material structures of this island country. In the context of the above-mentioned matters, then it corresponded the unremarkable exterior of the accommodation facility with the external view through which the members of hells view the positive state. They see the Kingdom of God as something uninteresting, due to their perverted frequency, which distorts their perception of true reality and prevents them from seeing the true spiritual wealth of the positive state that comes from the state of inwardness that they would be able to achieve through their open hearts. With the veil of evils and falsities removed, they would then see the positive state in all its splendour, not only on the inner and interior level, but also on the exterior level, which is harmoniously interwoven with the inner and interior. Thus, they would cease to perceive the Kingdom of God as something boring and unattractive - even repulsive - and instead would adopt a completely opposite attitude toward it on all three levels. So if they had previously seen the True Creation, let's say, as a completely ordinary house with a completely ordinary facade, after their inner transformation they would see in it the most beautiful, most wonderful, most breathtaking and magnificent palace, beyond all possible and impossible imaginations. A change in attitudes towards true being and existence is occurring among an increasing number of sentient entities leaving hells and moving into limbo, from where it is only a short step to the Kingdom of God.

Miša: On the second day of our stay in England (August 24th), we set off from Bournemouth to the town of Swanage. We didn't set off until the afternoon due to the previous rain.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: In your waiting, you have shown patience and confidence in My perfect plan. You weren't at all concerned about spending a few hours in your room after breakfast, while precious time ticked away. Even in this situation, you understood that everything always happens at the right moment. In addition, thanks to the weather forecast, you knew approximately when the rain would stop. When the rain eased, you set off on your journey. Even there, the rain accompanied you in places, but it was only the last reverberations of the vagaries of the weather, which did not have a negative impact on you, because you were under the protection of the car body (and therefore under My protection). What the rain was corresponded with and why you practically did not come into direct contact with it, I have already explained elsewhere in this Message. So you weren't limited by the rain. From a spiritual perspective, the fact that you went on a trip only in the afternoon due to this factor cannot be considered a restriction due to the vagaries of the weather. You filled the time until your departure with positively productive and valuable activities, consisting of pleasant rest in your room and friendly spiritual conversations on various topics. Then, when the right circumstances arose "at the scene" and "behind the scenes", in a state of heightened vibrations, you set out to explore interesting coastal locations. If you had set out earlier, you would not have been able to give them such set of energies of Love that I needed to anchor on them. It is right not to push anything "by force", to let everything flow freely, not to cling to anything and to enjoy the present moment in peace and tranquility, because that is how My will can manifest in your lives without any hitches.

Miša: On the way to the town of Swanage, we used the services of a local ferry, which cars ran into in several lanes. Within a few minutes, we moved at a slow speed to the other bank and continued to the aforementioned town.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: Your transfer by ferry along with the other cars referred in a hidden meaning to the process of conversion of beings from hells to limbo. One journey has ended for you so that a new one can begin on the other shore. It is the same with the saved sentient entities. The negative stage of their lives after leaving hells ends and a completely new one begins. The ferry itself, in the context described, referred to My enhanced support that I provide to those who choose to initiate Me into their hearts. This way, I can effectively guide them through all the obstacles and potential pitfalls of the negative state and successfully lead them to limbo. The fact that you crossed to the other shore with "dry feet" also referred to the aspect of this support and the associated protection against harmful influences. None of you have come into contact with seawater. The same is true for the converted beings, who in the process of leaving the hells no longer have to deal with evils and falsities in the same way as before. They no longer face immediate binding by the negative state. Instead, they are freed from it and in essential aspects they begin to be in perspective of it, that is, they become so-called "above things" in relation to it, just as you were figuratively "above things" in relation to seawater during a ferry ride. Your very presence in the car in this situation referred to that the converting beings are no longer affected by the immediate presence of the displacement zone environment, but at the same time they are not yet exposed to the immediate presence of the positive state environment. This fact was also expressed by the crews of other vehicles. Another implication of being in the car, which isolated you and other fellow travelers in their own vehicles from the outside world, was related to the fact that the process of conversion is, for sentient entities, in many respects a purely private and intimate matter, to which only the individual undergoing salvation and I, The Lord Jesus Christ (The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family) have access.

Míša: When we arrived in the town of Swanage, the last rain shower was fading. We waited in the car while I watched the rain move on the weather radar. Soon the clouds began to break and the sun finally came out.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: The coming of the sunlight in the context of the preceding information was related to the completion of the process of conversion of sentient entities in the form of their integration into the true being and existence of Creation. At the same time, it was a reflection of the new influx of God's principles of Love into the hells of the conservative Pseudo-Creators, on whose sphere our collective spiritual work during the England Mission was largely concentrated, as I have already spoken elsewhere in this Message. The clearing of the skies corresponded to the return of the converting Pseudo- Creators and their subordinate creatures to a state of pure mind, properly functioning intuition and unencumbered interior, regardless of whether their acceptance of the gift of salvation occurred during that day or earlier, or whether it would occur at the end of the cycle of time. The slight rainbow that appeared a little later over the sea during your walk around the dock was, in a spiritual sense, a reminder of the original agreement between Me and the Pseudocreators and other life-bearers, consisting in the establishment of the temporary existence of evils and falsities and the return of every being to the positive state. For those who wish to continue in the dead life for the time being, there has been an updated reminder of the agreement at the unconscious level, which will greatly facilitate the process of their future acceptance of salvation. Those who were already prepared for the gift of salvation were reminded of the agreement on a conscious level. The very weak intensity of the rainbow with a tiny scope was related to the fact that the energy of God, together with aspects of Truth, must penetrate into the deepest hells in a very subtle way, so as not to cause shock and spiritual damage to the living essence of the sentient entities thus burdened. At the same time, it was an expression that the presence of positive elements in the deepest spheres of the anti-universe can only be consciously registered in a positive spectrum and in a constructive sense by those who really want to accept salvation. Jen ti jsou schopni uzřít duhu a vydat se po ní do náruče věčného Rodiče. Only they are able to see the rainbow and set out after it into the arms of the eternal Parent. Whoever has eyes to see and ears to hear (that is, an open or gradually opening heart), sees and hears. Those who, on the contrary, choose to remain in the zone of displacement, cannot consciously register the rainbow, or they perceive it in a completely distorted way, which does not bring them anything positive at that moment. The non-intrusive breeze that accompanied you was then, in a hidden sense, the embodiment of the fresh changes being brought to the dark spheres. These changes, like the breeze, are all-pervading and all-area, setting in motion the rigidity of pseudo- being and pseudo- existence in the same way that, for example, flags representing the county of Dorset, England and the whole of the United Kingdom have been set in motion on Swanage pier.

Miša: In Swanage, we also managed to stop for a refreshment to try the traditional fish and chips, fried fish and chips. However, we did not stay here for long, because we had other places to visit the same day.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: Martinka felt the conversions during the food break. It was not the first time, because the previous day on the Bournemouth pier, in connection with the aforementioned spasms and the subsequent relief, she had already felt the "ices moving" in the non-material reality. In fact, conversions have been going on constantly during your stay in England, as they always have. However, only at certain moments you should have been reminded of this, as was especially the case with the more energetically sensitive Martinka and Péta, so that with your attention would contribute to the intensification of the intensity of the God's energy flowing into the hearts of the beings interested. Those who were ready could then more easily receive the gift of salvation. I have already provided information related to Martinka's temporary discomfort in Bournemouth earlier in this Message. However, I have not yet mentioned that My help at that time was directed, besides many other beings, also to mothers and children, whose burden Martinka perceived and correctly sensed what group of beings it was. It can now be clarified that it was mainly spiritual help mediated to mothers with a bad relationship with their offspring, mothers facing the loss of a child, mothers forced to take care of their sick child, single mothers, mothers abused by their offspring, mothers abused by their partner/husband, etc. Help was also provided from the other point of view, that is, children with a bad relationship with their mother, children facing the loss of their mother, children forced to take care of their sick mother, etc. The loving attitude of Martinka to her own children, in combination with the demanding of her various roles (that is, not only the role of a motherly), and above all by virtue of her association with Me and The New Revelation, could bring much of My light into these areas through this representative of Mine, and thus bring a whole host of sentient entities into My arms. The process of intense assistance in this matter may have come about thanks to the intensified connection of your energies as a result of your spending time together on the physical plane, in the context of a country that is deeply connected to the origin, functioning and termination of the negative state. In this case, too, the involvement of a number of other members of our Team spoke into your energies. Help for mothers and children also extended to many other areas of interpersonal relationships - family, but also friendships and partnerships. Martinka participates in the purification of the latter kind of relationships mainly thanks to her connection with Péta, with whom she experiences a relationship based on the principles of The New Revelation. The conversions felt by Martinka during the refreshment in Swanage were thus a continuation of the events that had already made themselves known the previous day in Bournemouth.

One of the other areas of spiritual work consisted of helping the greys, beings heavily involved in the control of humanity. Their main bases within this solar system are on the Moon, Jupiter and Mars, but also below the surface of the planet Zero itself. The largest concentration of bases of the greys is in the United Kingdom. Your presence in this country has made it even easier for the greys to wake up from their false reality. On a multidimensional level, a noticeably higher number of greys are now leaving hells than was the case before your visit to England. In the near future, especially after the launch of the Mission, this will contribute to facilitating the spiritual awakening of a certain percentage of the inhabitants of planet Zero who, through their choices, will subsequently contribute to their rapture into the positive state. However, the control of the vast majority of the earth's population will continue to increase in spite of the numerous conversions of the greys as its spiritual decline continues, giving Creation an answer in every way to the question of what life would be like without Me.

The last piece of information I want to mention in relation to your visit to Swanage is the correspondence with eating fish and chips. Since it is a food historically linked to the working class, which consumed it in abundance already in the 19th century, even through fish and chips there could be an intensified penetration of God's Love to the interested circuits of sentient entities. In this case, it was the working class who stood out among them, who through your action and with the assistance of other members of the Team gained a wider awareness of My New and Newest Nature. Many members of this class have come to realize that true life is not about poverty, toil, dirt and money-making, but is about inner wealth, easiness, purity, interior and exterior beauty, while doing without financial means, which do not limit anyone in any way. Not only the workers, therefore, had the opportunity to understand that in the positive state no one suffers, is exploited or experiences any injustice. The Kingdom of God is free of from all of this.

Miša: When we left Swanage, our next destination was the ruins of Corfe Castle, a few kilometres away, standing on top of a hill. We didn't get to the building itself because there was an entrance fee and it was closing soon. We therefore looked-over Corfe only from its main gate. At the time of our visit to this place, an ambulance drove past us and stopped in the castle compound. Then we moved to the area below the castle, filled with old stone houses and the church of St. Edward, King and Martyr. Then we gone down the same way back to the parking lot and headed to the second to last stop of the day.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: Among other aspects, the ruins of the castle corresponded above all with the transience of the negative state and its decay, which manifests itself very well on the external level of its existence, that is, in matter. As soon as you leave something unattended and don't take proper care of it, it will begin to decay, rot, erode or otherwise degrade. However, even if you were to give this your utmost attention and energy, you would not be able to avoid the gradual decay due to the aging of matter and its general instability, as is also the case with human bodies, which cannot function forever even with the best care. Such is simply the nature of the zone of displacement, operating from the stolen energies of True Creation. The disturbed structure of the castle stones also referred to the collapse of the hard structure of the spiritual elements causing the encapsulation of the interiors of beings living in hells. The breaking down of these negative influences is being accomplished by the ongoing and ever-expanding spiritual work of the Mission of God's Family, thanks to which the zone of displacement is being flooded with the power of My New and Newest Nature. The ruins of the medieval building therefore also referred in a hidden meaning to the aspect of the release of beings to freedom, who would no longer be enclosed between the imaginary cold walls of dead life, nor would they look up to the representatives of political or ecclesiastical power with which castles were and are associated.

It didn't matter that you didn't get directly into the main compound, because from a spiritual point of view, it was only necessary to visit the main gate space, which is what happened. Just the gate in conjunction with your overall view of the castle corresponded with the factor of My overall view of the events in the zone of displacement. The gateway, which was the entry and exit point of the castle, also referred in its purpose to My control over the process of infusing the energies of Love into the anti-universe. In connection with your presence, it also referred to My supervision of the departure of My sons and daughters from hells to limbo. The ambulance that drove through the gates into the interior of the compound mirrored the help the members of the hells are receiving from My representatives. In the new cycle of time, there will no longer be the separation of beings from Me due to which the inhabitants of the zone of displacement are spiritually, mentally and physically ill from the point of view of the positive state.

Miša: The penultimate stop on that day consisted of a visit to the Durdle Door rock arch and the adjacent beach, located about half an hour's drive from Corfe Castle. Even before we parked, we noticed a significant number of British Indians passing through or driving past us. Then we found others on the beach itself. It seemed to us that they were there for a specific purpose. Indians made up by far the largest number of visitors to this place. As we walked to Durdle Door, the sun was just setting and a rather chilly wind was blowing. I really liked the view of the rocky arch, illuminated by the setting sun, along with other scenery of majestic cliffs and coastal coves. This place seemed to me the most interesting of all the locations I had visited before and after. I enjoyed the uniqueness of these moments and tried to remember the view of the rock arch as thoroughly as possible. On the beach, we then sent a video greeting to our friends from the Team. In it, I thanked them on behalf of the three of us for accompanying us on non-material levels, as well as for their Love, favor, support, and cooperation in ending the negative state. Soon we took the same route back to the car. In the first section, we climbed with a steeper elevation gain on the stairs, the rest of the trail we climbed more gradually.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: Before I move on to what you've described, I would like to first focus on the spiritual significance of the Jurassic Coast. Its rocks contain encoded spiritual, mental, and physical information documenting approximately 185 million years of the planet's geological history. They record aspects that testify to the changes of this location over a long period of time, and they contain numerous remains of various animals and plants inhabiting this part of the country. Your presence in this place, in cooperation with My other representatives operating from the non-material spheres, contributed to the beginning of a deeper degree of spiritual cleansing of the primordial creations of the Pseudocreators, who populated this world with them in various periods of time. As part of their experiments, they created countless species of fauna and flora, which they used to test different concepts of creating false life. After an immensely long time, after many failures, after countless time travels, after many erasing of traces, after a great deal of redrawing of the surface of the planet, after a number of rewrites and falsifications of planetary history, and after a number of "resets" of this reality, they finally arrived at their final creation – the typical earthly humanity that best corresponds to their intentions. After some experiments of the Pseudocreators, but far from all, prehistoric fossils have been preserved. Through our joint work, many non-sentient, semi-sentient and, of course, sentient entities, connected with the ancient ages of this planet, began to face an increased influx of Divine Love, resulting in a more thorough purification of their collective and individual consciousnesses, as well as a more intense purification of the whole range of spiritual aspects forming the character of the primordial period on all three levels. Our multidimensional activity has once again contributed to helping the Pseudocreators themselves. Joint spiritual work on the Jurassic Coast has also positively influenced those developmental stages of the planet that are not clearly inscribed in gross material reality due to its repeated changes. My Love could thus travel to many periods of secret history that are unknown to earthly science or deliberately overlooked. The gift of salvation was thus accepted, among many others, by representatives of the civilization of Atlantis.

Now to Durdle Door itself. It is not essential to state and analyse the external reason for its visit on the part of a large number of members of the Indian race. However, it is important to mention that your indirect contact with them contributed to helping the Renegades. So far, I have talked about the fact that during the England Mission, work was done inside the Datasystem and in the deep hells of the conservative Pseudocreators. The deep hells, only in a different section, are also inhabited by Renegades, who could not be left out of My plan. Therefore, the light of the positive state was also focused to an intensified extent on this type of hellish beings. The Renegades are closely linked to the Indian race, as are the other Asian nations under their rule. The more Indians there were at Durdle Door, the greater the reach My Love could have in the Renegades hells. Our spiritual work in this context also had an impact on many other beings who are subordinate to the Renegades. The positive aspects also affected the collective consciousness of India in a certain way. The mentioned aspects also reached the non-material structure of other Asian nations. Thus, sentient entities associated with China, which forms the second most populous state on planet Zero after India, could begin to get acquainted with My New and Newest Nature to a greater extent, in addition to other beings. A deeper focus not only on these Asian nations thus helps to more quickly end the state of evils and falsities and to successfully continue the spiritual revival of the Renegades themselves. Indians, who are primarily associated with Hinduism, are controlled by false spirituality, similar to members of other religions. Therefore, it was essential that you, Míša, on the beach at Durdle Door arch, remembered on the physical level the essence of My New and Newest Nature, emphasizing the information that I am the only Source of life. Thanks to this, the intensity of this message was also strengthened on a spiritual and mental level. The influence of the energy of the positive state on the Indian element present here has led many inhabitants of the anti-universe to turn away from false gods, to refuse rituals based on externals, to reject all kinds of dogmas, and to resist various fears. In this way, they were able to set out into My arms and be moved to limbo, where, step by step, they would be completely freed from all lingering deposits. The diminishing influence of false spirituality in the zone of displacement, which will one day result in its complete end, was symbolized in this situation by the setting sun and the increasing number of Indians leaving this tourist location with the arrival of evening. Through the presence of Indians, spiritual assistance to the collective consciousness of the Gypsy ethnic group and its specific members has also deepened. The process of emptying the hells thus gained a significant new impetus, as God's energy intensified its impact on the home areas of the Renegades and Pseudocreators, but also clashed with a whole range of other aspects of dead life, with which the movers of the negative state are intrinsically linked.

The shape of the Durdle Door rock arch evokes in many people the image of a drinking "dragon" with its head submerged in the sea. This idea reflected the stealing of the energies of the positive state on the part of the state of evils and falsities, which was expressed by that geological formation, while true being and existence were represented by the sea. Please note that in this case the sea does not have a negative meaning, as it often does in other cases. The immobility of the formation referred to the rigidity of the anti-universe, in contrast to which the true spheres of Creation are pulsating and changeable, as was the case with the seawater, which with its movements rippled the space under and around the arch. The very size of the Durdle Door and the body of water referred to the spiritual dimension of the zone of displacement and the True Creation. The rock arch, although majestic from a closer look, appeared as an object that was relatively small and limited in comparison to the surrounding sea. The rock arch, although majestic from a closer look, appeared as an object that was relatively small and limited in comparison to the surrounding sea. From another spiritual perspective, the bowed "dragon's head" submerged in water signified that the negative state was in a subordinate position to its positive counterpart. It reflected its decline and loss of potential. Thanks to our progressive work, the negative state can no longer soar into the sky, figuratively speaking, nor can it spit fire, so to speak. Its place is now figuratively on earth, with its head bowed and immersed, surrounded by the surrounding waters. The hole in the rock, created by water erosion, again corresponded with the entry of sentient entities into a new stage of life, which occurs with their departure from hells and entry into limbo. In this situation, the hole was also connected with the shift of Creation as a whole into new, transcendent phases of its development.

There are many of these phases and they have different character. All of them, however, bring Creation closer and closer to ending the state of evils and falsities and establishing the fullness of true life. However, the hole also represented a network of portals embedded in the structure of the Multiverse and functioning in the hearts of God's representatives. It therefore referred to the exit points serving the converting beings, who thanks to them can begin a new stage of life, as I stated a few lines above, and also mirrored the entry points, allowing My Love to spread to the different levels of hells. All the revealed correspondences regarding the hole also apply to the very part of the name of this formation - "Door". As for the word "Durdle", it comes from the Old English word for drilling. This word, together with the very process of water erosion, which was eroding a hole in the rock over a long period of time, in its hidden meaning referred to the gradual disruption of the structure of pseudo-being and pseudo-existence and to the penetration of God's energy into its bowels. The negative state, represented by the rock, degrades, but the force it faces, represented by the water, is constant in every change.

The video greeting, sent from the beach to the other members of the Team, became a tool for amplifying the intensity of the positive energies radiated into the zone of displacement to the desired level. This was not only due to its content in the form of words of sincere Love and appreciation, but also based on the formulated awareness that your friends are with you on non-material levels.

As you walked back to the car park from Durdle Door, the steeper elevation in the initial section of the trip symbolized the more challenging phase of conversion that sentient entities go through as they shed their first spiritual deposits and achieve their first inner awarenesses. The next, slower section of the trip then reflected the easier phase of conversion that beings experience in the subsequent stages of this process, during which they shed more and more aspects of the negative state. The closer someone is to Me, the easier everything becomes for them.

Míša: The last stop of the day was the nearby Lulworth Cove, where we arrived already after dusk. We reached the beach again, from which I then went to a vantage point on a rock from which it was possible to observe the entire cove. The view of its semicircle, filled with water and framed by the beach, above which ran a more or less rounded rock massif, was impressive.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: While you, Míša, climbed up the rock, Martinka and Pét'a stayed down. This situation referred to the extent of the multidimensional work of the Team of God's Family, which works both in the zone of displacement (below) and in the spheres of true being and existence (above). So it was a demonstration of our coverage of both states of the Multiverse. The fact that you knew about each other and had the opportunity to see each other, signified the connection and cooperation of My representatives from the positive state with My representatives working in the hells - and vice versa. Whether or not certain representatives of God in different places of Creation consciously communicate with each other, they are all guided from within by My Providence, which always sees to it that the spiritual work done by each one individually and by all of them together brings the greatest benefit for the good of the whole Universe. The place from which the whole cove could be observed referred in a hidden meaning to My overview of the whole pseudo-being and pseudo-existence (I have already spoken about this overview in the context of the spiritual analysis of Corfe Castle). The pseudo-being and pseudo-existence was expressed by the water surface in the cove. That place above the cove also referred to My overview of the whole positive state, represented by that rounded rock massif rising non-aggressively from the beach, symbolizing the limbo in which also nothing escapes My attention. From the position of the absolute state, I have all of Creation, so to speak, "in the palm of My hand." The situation of the setting sun in combination with the almost clear sky then referred to the fact that even when working in the dark spheres of the Multiverse (setting sun) My representatives retain their connection with Me, the only Source of true life (almost clear sky). This connection is somewhat limited (not fatally) for them in the negative state, mirrored by the persistent presence of cloud remnants in an otherwise clear sky.

Míša: We didn't get back to Bournemouth until dark. The next day (25 August) we left this place and went to the complex of menhirs and stone circles called Stonehenge, located near the town of Salisbury in Wiltshire. Because of the exorbitant price the parking-keepers were charging for entry to the local car park, we decided to leave our car on the edge of the side access road. It took a while, but the informed Martinka soon found the desired place. So we didn't have to pay for access to the stones. Moreover, we were much closer to them than those who made their way to Stonehenge from the official car park.

The way to the stones was twofold - one for people with a ticket, the other for people without a ticket. Even we, who did not pay anything, had the opportunity to see Stonehenge from a distance of a few dozen meters, with the only difference that "payers" had the opportunity to go all around this tourist attraction, while "non-payers" only from one direction. However, even people with a ticket could not approach the stones at an immediate distance in such a way that they could touch them. Me, Martinka and Péta were glad that we chose an alternative route. Although we couldn't go around Stonehenge, we were still able to observe it from multiple angles on the way there and back. So we didn't regret anything, we were happy with our decision. The view of Stonehenge itself did not captivate me, I did not feel special here. But I felt grateful for the opportunity to see this world-famous place. Neither Martinka nor Péta felt anything special in this place from the energetic point of view.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: What you witnessed at Stonehenge showed an attempt to divide people into two categories, which was made all the more visible by the fact that the walkway for people with a ticket ran parallel to that for people without a ticket, with the paths separated by a low fence. Of course, there's nothing wrong with someone paying for this tour and having a slightly better visual experience when visiting Stonehenge. It has only been shown, or rather reminded how money rules the world, how it makes the inhabitants of this planet outwardly unequal to each other, and how it determines the character, quality and intensity of the various physical aspects of earthly life - in whatever area of this dimension of being here. Fortunately, money does not exist in the positive state. The physical aspects of life in the Kingdom of God are directly related to the state of inwardness of the individual and his/her degree of spiritual advancement, without his/her material existence having to be based on financial means. The functioning of the paradisiacal worlds is therefore based on the equality of all its inhabitants having direct access to the Source of Life, thanks to which every being on the spiritual, mental and physical levels always has everything necessary to be permanently happy. Everyone always receives as many aspects of the positive state as they can absorb, and no one envies those who absorb more in the slightest. Whatever stage of spiritual development the sentient entities are in a positive state, no one feels himself/herself to be anything more or less in relation to the other. Everyone knows their self-worth exactly. Therefore, no being has a feeling of inadequacy, nor does he/she feel that he/she is "on the ball" compared to others. All are aware of their unity in diversity and their belonging to Me, The Lord Jesus Christ (The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family), enriching each other, complementing and expanding their degree of knowledge of the Creator, other and themselves, including the various regions of the Multiverse they inhabit.

It's great that you were happy with your decision to go the second category route. You have shown that you can enjoy unique moments without placing any emphasis on the external aspect, the experience of which would have cost you an exorbitant amount of money, which in this case was not worth sacrificing for such a thing - not because you could not afford it, but because you approached the matter on the basis of the principle of wisdom and prudence. If you bought a ticket, you would be only a few dozen metres closer to Stonehenge and with the opportunity to see it from all angles. However, you wouldn't be any happier inside. You have portrayed aspects of humility and humbleness, and you have become the embodiment of knowing that what is valuable and important is not out there, but in your hearts and within your circle of friends. It filled you with positive energy no matter where you were physically. In the end, you always took away good feelings from visiting different places thanks to this setup. You were glad that you had the opportunity to see a piece of the world and you enjoyed even the little things. Your feeling of visiting Stonehenge may have been all the better for not having insisted on seeing its structure up close at all costs. In fact, at first, when looking for an alternative parking lot, you had no idea how far or if you could even get to the stones. You let it flow freely under the guidance from within, whereupon you found yourself, led by Martinka, in an alternative parking lot on the side of the road, where only a few cars were parked, unlike the official parking lots, which were considerably full. In this way you have demonstrated the principle that "whoever wants to, will find a way", which is especially important for converted beings in a multidimensional context. Anyone who is willing to create within himself/herself the conditions for his/her transition into limbo will always find the way to the only Source of life. It is enough to want, and with pure and good intentions. Then it cannot happen that such a being will not walk into My arms.

There is no consensus on the purpose of Stonehenge. It is not the purpose of this Message to describe and analyze information about its origin and real function, as this is not vital to know. However, it is pertinent to note that this very old structure is associated with a whole host of beings from various spheres of the anti-universe, including those sentient entities that have physically lived in or around this place. In the non-material plane of this place there is a very diverse mix of energies, connected with a rather wide range of areas of the zone of displacement and with a diverse range of aspects that fill this zone. It is a kind of harbour where souls meet for various purposes. At the same time, it is a crossroads of paths that converge here to one point and again emanate from it to all surrounding directions (in a non-spatial sense). These paths work in conjunction with the portal located here. Through your presence and through the involvement of other members of the Team, sets of positive aspects of redeeming quality have been inscribed in this place. These will form one of the important prerequisites for ending the negative state in the future and will contribute to ensuring the complete and eternal removal of its remnants from the structure of the Multiverse. At the same time, they will help to ensure that no sentient entity will bring to the new cycle of time any memory of the previous existence of evils and falsities. Even while visiting this place, many of My sons and daughters were converted into My arms. There was a lot going on in the non-material spheres, but due to the effect of a specific kind of protection, by which you were deliberately disconnected from perceiving or being aware of any events "behind the scenes", you felt nothing special in this place. It was because it was the right thing to do. For security reasons it is not possible to say more about your visit to Stonehenge, nor about the structure itself and what is connected to it on levels invisible to the human eye.

As I have written elsewhere, southern England, along with London, is an area that is much more associated with the deepest hells than other parts of the United Kingdom. This is one of the reasons why this area is so widely attracted not only by beings from "classical" hells, but also by extraterrestrial beings from the regions of false paradises. It is the latter type of sentient entities that are behind most of the so-called crop circles, which are most concentrated in the fields of southern England. On the basis of false love, these beings project various geometric shapes with hidden messages into the grain, serving as energy radiators. As part of the false transformation, they balance the energies of open negation on planet Zero. But both forces come from the same source, which is the negative state. False transformation is one of the ways the Datasystem tries to keep humanity as far away from Me, The Lord Jesus Christ (The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family) as possible. If it were not for the books of The New Revelation, My God Team and last but not least My personal presence on this planet, this time in a woman's body, it would not be possible to finish what I started here two thousand years ago in the body of Jesus. In such a case, mankind would never awaken and find its way into God's true embrace. Thus, the negative state would at some point engulf the whole of Creation and eventually come to its own annihilation.

Why am I talking about beings from false paradises? Above all to indicate the fact that our joint spiritual work in the south of England has deepened the saving processes also in relation to this type of inhabitant of the anti-universe. Aspects of true Love, real Truth and genuine Good have thus been brought into the spheres abounding in false love, which can henceforth more easily germinate in the ever-increasing number of members of false paradises, thus turning them to the right path in accordance with their free choice. The process of spreading God's energy in the structures of the false paradises was symbolized by your driving through by the numerous fields which you have bypassed in your travels and which are the grateful place of interest for the type of extraterrestrial beings described.

Miša: When we finished our visit to Stonehenge, we went to the town of Reading, located in Berkshire, near the western edge of London. We had this town on our way to Windsor Castle, which we wanted to see the same day before driving to Milton Keynes, where Martinka lives. Personally, I was drawn to Reading mainly because of its association with my favourite band Nirvana, who played one of their most famous concerts here in 1992. Reading up to this day is famous for its renowned music festival. Our shorter stop began with a visit to Forbury Gardens. The place had a pleasant impression on us. There was a statue of a lion on a pedestal, a gazebo, ornamental flowers, mature and smaller trees, a fountain and interconnected paths. Then we went to see the splendid-looking town hall with its tower. The building was made of grey and red bricks. Afterwards we went to the shopping centre. We had no time to waste, so we soon finished our visit to this place and moved back to the car.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: As part of your travels, it was important to get closer to London, both through a visit to Reading and a later visit to Windsor Castle, which is even closer to the United Kingdom capital, a short walk from Heathrow Airport. The visit to Reading Park was particularly important from a spiritual point of view because of the presence of the aforementioned lion on a pedestal, which had the function of a war memorial commemorating a certain battle in the 19th century Anglo-Afghan War. Your presence helped to convert many of the fallen soldiers involved not only in this conflict, but also in other conflicts that took place in various parts of the world as a result of the expansion of the British Empire. My Love poured into the hearts of all those who were able to receive it, therefore it did not make any distinction between one side or the other side of the conflict. Many of the soldiers thus found peace of mind, accepted forgiveness and forgave themselves and others, and felt friendship and unity even with their former enemies. Those who have accepted the gift of salvation have come to understand the futility of all strife, and this included many of the beings who, from their position "behind the scenes," were behind its planning and instigation. They threw away the misguided ideas in whose name they had fought, and instead embraced the Truth of The New Revelation, which now gives them an entirely new perspective on the happenings in the gross-material world and in the entire Multiverse. The statue of a dark, not very friendly looking lion also helped the ongoing process of mediating help to the collective species of various animal, that is, non-sentient entities. This will contribute to their complete purification, which will be achieved after the removal of these collective consciousnesses from the zone of displacement at the end of the current cycle of time. In the new multiverse age, animals will not have any interior or exterior negative characteristics, as is already the case in the True Creation sphere.

The circular and rectangular flowerbeds, always made up of several types of flowers, referred to the sense of beauty that characterizes the inhabitants of the positive state. The correspondence with true being and existence could have been all the stronger because the park was not overcrowded with flowerbeds. There were just enough of them, and they looked rich despite their moderation. Exactly such is the positive state, which is characterized by beauty and richness, but with the absence of any extremes. Moreover, everything has its perfect place in the Kingdom of God. The same was true of the flowerbeds, which fit the park exactly as the gardeners had placed them. The interconnected paths then referred to the interconnection of all parts of the positive state, together forming one whole. The gazebo, together with the benches, reflected the aspect of peace and tranquility that permeates My Kingdom. The roof of the gazebo then symbolized the aspect of security, which members of the positive state enjoy to the fullest. The very inhabitants of the placed sphere of Creation were reflected in a hidden meaning by the trees. Their height symbolized the different spiritual progress of the recipients of life. Their fresh, green leaves referred to the fact that everyone is in the creative process of life, that is, they are full of strength, vitality, and health. The sun shining on these trees then corresponded with the fact that My Love (sunlight) falls on all beings (trees) equally so that they can grow and prosper. The flowing fountain in the territory of the park was connected with the factor of the springing of life from My absolute into the positive state, which is fed by this nourishing and creative energy in relative condition.

Reading Town Hall, through your visit and through the presence of other members of the Team on non-material levels, has helped to mediate salvation to individuals connected to the upper echelons of society. These were not only representatives of members of the city's leadership. Even those socially privileged beings, whose focus of their earthly and "afterlife" life was concentrated in other spheres, began to find their way to Me. My energy went not only to the sentient entities associated with the 19th century period in which this town hall was built, but also focused on the preceding and following periods. As is always the case, spiritual work is never focused on one particular aspect and one particular period.

When visiting the shopping centre, you "soaked up" the local atmosphere. Your presence here has made the negative state aware that our common spiritual work also focuses on aspects such as consumerism and materialistic ways of life. The prepared beings "behind the scenes" were thus able to understand more easily what the true values of life are, based on the union with Me and My New Revelation. However, even for the unprepared, it will ultimately have a beneficial impact, as the consciousness of the true values of life has taken deeper root in many areas of the negative state, including the collective consciousness of England itself. Thus, sentient entities will be able to draw on this positive element in the future.

When you came out of the clean shopping centre, representing, among other things, the aforementioned attractive glitz of the negative state, you found yourself on a street where garbage was lying around. While the shopping centre was related to the areas of false paradises, where everything is nice, clean and attractive at first sight, the street in front of the shopping centre reflected the "classical" hells, in relation to which the false paradises are actually in the minority. For the negative state is able to produce a nice external environment only in a limited area of its domain, while the rest of the anti-universe represents aspects of evils and falsities in a much more obvious, that is, unconcealed spectrum.

You ended your visit to Reading where you started – in front of Forbury Gardens, where you had your car. On your way to it you noticed an officer checking the validity of parking tickets of vehicles parked near yours. I mention this fact to draw the reader's attention to the well-known fact that people in the United Kingdom face more control from the system than people in the Czech Republic, for example. The increased control of the people of the British Isles is a direct result of the position this part of the world takes on the negative state. As an example of the severity of the system there, the fine for driving without a seatbelt (which you discussed during your trip) is £1,000 (just under CZK 30,000) in the United Kingdom, while in the Czech Republic the amount does not exceed CZK 2,500. While in the latter country the amount of the fine for violating the rule is educational, in the British Isles the amount of the sanction is in comparison more of a form of punishment. Although the average wages in the United Kingdom are incomparably higher than in the Czech Republic, so £1,000 may not be such a problem for a local person, you should look at the issue from an overall perspective. It will show you not just one or two systemic things that are stricter in this island country compared to the Czech Republic, but a whole host of them. The sum of these laws and regulations then leads to the stated fact that the British are under the control of the system to a noticeably greater extent than in the spiritual centre of the world.

Of course, the functioning of human society cannot do without earthly laws and regulations. But it is about the intention with which they are enforced. Recently, more and more of them are being promoted not in the interests of the people but against them, although this may not be apparent at first sight. As the NWO approaches, the "screws are tightening". The United Kingdom is a good example of this, but its people are overwhelmingly unaware of the pernicious nature of the system they are used to living in. It is no different elsewhere in the world, because the NWO is being deployed everywhere, with the only difference that each state has a different set of means reserved for this purpose by the elites. It follows that in some respects a particular country or part of the world may be ahead of another whole in deploying the NWO. In other respects it may be exactly the opposite, for example, that the Czech Republic is further ahead than the United Kingdom in many respects. This is indeed the case, however, from an overall perspective, it is still true that the island country in question has a head start in preparations for the NWO compared to the spiritual center of the world. In fact, the United Kingdom is the most prepared of all the countries in the world for the coming of the new orders, even though it is a so-called democracy and is not a country like North Korea or China. For the NWO's deployment does not consist only of aspects that are "on the scene" in a clearly visible spectrum. This issue also consists of a number of aspects "behind the scenes". These cannot be conceived except through a spiritual lens. At this point I can refer readers to the aforementioned Message, "London Mission: Spiritual Work in the United Kingdom in a Multidimensional Context", 1 April 2023, in which, among other things, I clarify more fully the position of this country in relation to the negative state. With an understanding of the context presented in this Word of God, a better understanding of why the United Kingdom is best prepared for the coming of the NWO can be achieved.

The rootedness of the negative state is also manifested in the characteristics of English people, which is reflected especially in interpersonal communication. This is manifested by an emphasis on courtesy, propriety and kindness, which is, however, usually achieved on the basis of external formality. English kindness is so often devoid of emotional warmth, that is, it is not cordial, which makes it just a pose. The information given is of course only a small and generalizing slice of the whole "pie" of human characteristics, because each person is original and has an original mix of many different characteristics embedded in him. However, even a generalised example is a good illustration of the way in which the negative state manifests itself in the English mentality. Of course, like any nation, the inhabitants of the island kingdom also have many positive characteristics. These include, for example, calmness, tolerance, respect, the desire to get along with each other and to be helpful to others in some way.

The visit to Reading had many meanings from a spiritual point of view, as was the case with all the places you have visited before and since. However, it is always possible to reveal only those that are graspable and desirable to you for the expansion of your knowledge and for your continued spiritual development. The last matter I would like to mention in connection with this city is its aforementioned connection with music festivals, its connection with the former performance of the music group Nirvana, and therefore its connection with its frontman Kurt Cobain, whose figure and work you, Miša, have been intensely interested in since you were growing up. We have written about Kurt in previous years. It is therefore not news to many that he accepted Me into his heart and converted to Limbo, where he decided to become part of the Mission of God's Family and consciously working within it. Thanks to these factors and through your presence in Reading, a new phase of spiritual help to beings connected with the musical culture of not only the 20th and 21st centuries, but also of previous ages, could be launched "behind the scenes". Thus, My Love has arrived among other representatives of various bands, not only rock bands, who lived on planet Zero in the past, regardless of how they left the gross-material body. God's energy has found its target among many of their listeners also dwelling beyond this world. In addition, My Love has also reached those spheres of the anti-universe that are corresponded with the production of various musical styles and genres. The music manifesting on planet Zero is also inspired from positive worlds. The degree of negative and positive elements is different for each musical style, genre, band, and even for each musical composition. The results of the spiritual work done in Reading will positively influence in the future those musical celebrities who are still fulfilling their role on this planet. The same applies to current fans of current and past performers. I would like to take this opportunity to thank Kurt for his ever deepening collaboration with the Mission of God's Family. But My deepest gratitude also goes to all others who feel part of our Team, as well as to all sentient entities who have received or are receiving the gift of salvation.

Miša: After our visit to Reading, we visited Windsor Castle. It was a little before closing time, so we only saw the castle from the outside. The complex is huge, so we actually saw only a small part of it. Even so, we were glad to visit this place. Then we visited the shopping area, which is part of the railway station located directly opposite the castle.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: As you well understood, it was not about seeing the whole castle and visiting it in a cognitive and experiential way. The importance of your visit lay in the very fact that you were there, regardless of the fact that you did not stay long and saw only the bare minimum of Windsor. This did not prevent you from bringing My intensified light to this place together with other representatives of God. In connection with this, other kings and queens have accepted the gift of salvation, following the example of their near and distant relatives who have initiated Me into their hearts in connection with the earlier spiritual work of the members of the God Team that was carried out during the London Mission. However, it was not just the high-ranking members of the ruling dynasties, but also a whole range of other kinds of sentient entities living at different stages in time throughout the history of the United Kingdom, as well as in the era of state formations preceding it. The considerable time span of the stages on which our spiritual work was concentrated corresponded with the very long, almost thousand-year history of the castle itself.

The visit to Windsor, although only brief, was also in a spiritual sense the culmination of your five-day stay in England, because during it there was a major phase of a general updating of all the important processes that have taken place since the aforementioned London Mission. Along with this, there has been a widespread harvest of many spiritual fruits that have grown since the manifestation and completion of this Mission on imaginary trees symbolizing our work and cooperation together in relation to the United Kingdom and the entire Multiverse. This harvest has the effect of making the beautiful that has arisen and continues to arise from our multidimensional action fulfill its noble purpose more effectively than ever before. This great capitalization on the positive results of our work and collaboration has resulted in the elimination process moving to a new level, which has been achieved on a quantum scale. Thus, the entire Multiverse shifts even faster from that point on towards the end of the current cycle of time. The "behind the scenes" action described could not have occurred in a better location than at Windsor Castle, which is located adjacent to London. Only thanks to the strong interconnection of the castle with the capital could this act have the required power and effect. This interconnectedness stems not only from a geographical point of view, but also from the factor of the Royal Family, for whom Windsor is one of the two most important and representative residences, together with Buckingham Palace, located in London itself. During your visit to Windsor, thanks to these matters, it was possible to make it easier to reinforce the functionality of the existing portal at Buckingham Palace. This reinforcement was inextricably linked to the broad harvest of many spiritual fruits mentioned a moment ago and to the aforementioned shift of the elimination process to a new level on a quantum scale. On the day that all this took place, 25 August, a new portal was also established right outside one of Windsor's entrance gates. This portal has since operated in close connection with the portal anchored in the past at the aforementioned London seat of the Royal Family. On a conscious level, you were not aware that a portal was being created during your visit to this place, because you were not focusing your attention on it in any way. From the point of view of My plan, this was the intention. Thanks to this, the negative forces could not prepare in advance for the anchoring of the portal and thus try to block or at least slow down its creation.

The success of the spiritual work done is all the more significant for the positive state of matters because the two royal residences are among the most spiritually burdened places in the whole of England. By achieving intense infusions of God's energy in such dark places in both 2023 and 2024, My light could illuminate a far wider range of aspects of evils and falsities than is usual, not only in the non-material plane of these localities themselves, but especially in the vast number of areas of the deepest hells that are corresponded with these localities. The fact that God's energy could reach the "bottom" of the anti-universe with such intensity was based on the fact that you and Windsor Castle were located west of London. For as I have already stated in the Message "The Meeting of the Team of God's Family in the Western Bohemia" of August 16, 2024, operating on the western side of a certain whole in the spiritual sense allows My Love to penetrate to the lowest levels of hells, among the worst evils, falsities and distortions. It does not matter to which whole the phenomenon of the Western side is related. In the above-mentioned Message I further stated that through the spiritual work on the West Side its multidimensionality, all-inclusiveness, universality and completeness are ensured. All these characteristics then spill over into the spiritual work done in the east, north or south of a particular state, region or other territorial unit, in whatever spiritual work is done by God's representatives under My guidance from within. It is because of this that not only the spiritual work done during the Windsor visit could be multidimensional, all-inclusive, universal and complete, but the spiritual work done in all the different places you visited in England before and after Windsor could be of the same character. Thanks to this fact, My energy could stream to the lowest hells in all cases, wherever you were at the time. In the above-mentioned Message I also wrote, among other things, that everything that is realized in the West makes it possible to bring spiritual work to a successful conclusion. This end can be both definitive (e.g., the emptying of an entire region of hells) and only partial, in the sense of reaching a certain point beyond the steps of spiritual work accomplished so far in the previous stage, which is logically followed by the transcending stage. Partial endings in ongoing processes of ending the negative state occur much more frequently at present than definitive endings. Even the Mission England was filled with a number of these partial endings and new beginnings, which could - and I will repeat it again - also lead to that wide-ranging harvest of many spiritual fruits and to the aforementioned shift of the elimination process to a new level on a quantum scale. Over time, these partial ends will also contribute to the more frequent attainment of these definitive ends, the most important and final of which will occur at the moment of the actual elimination of the negative state.

In the context of the information given in these lines, it is clear that all aspects of our joint spiritual work within the England Mission have been used to the fullest extent to successfully continue the process of reaching the finale of the present cycle of time as quickly as possible. Thus the spiritual work being done in the United Kingdom in 2023 and 2024 has perfectly set the stage for My personal entry into the United Kingdom in a female gross material body. In the Message "The London Mission..." I deliberately excluded this possibility at the time, explaining that for such a specifically spiritually burdened country, having a correspondence with the origin of the negative state itself, it is not possible for the Goddess to visit it in the existing physical shell, since this visit would not be effective in all necessary aspects in such a case, thus would have only a limited impact. Therefore, this event should not have taken place earlier than in the new crystalline body of the Goddess. In order to prepare the spiritual atmosphere of the United Kingdom for these future visits, the successful London Mission was to take place. But no one could have guessed at the time that the subsequent shifts achieved "behind the scenes" and "at the scene" would be so fundamental and extensive that they would prepare the spiritual atmosphere of this country for the visit of the Goddess even during the preparatory phase of the Mission of God's Family, that is, during the time of Jana's working in the present physical shell. The fact that the readiness of the spiritual atmosphere of this country for that event will mature even before the full launch of our activities from New Earth could not be revealed in 2023 and even in 2024 for strategic reasons. That is why I had to explain in the past the reasons why My visit in the body from the Pseudocreators will not be possible. This was because if I were to reveal to the negative state long in advance something as serious as My personal presence in a gross material body in the territory corresponding to the very origin of the negative state, it would fundamentally jeopardize God's plan. But because God's plan is truly God's, this jeopardy could never actually happen - and it never will. So the negative state could not (and cannot) adequately prepare for My "premature" visit to England.

On the basis of the shifts that have taken place since March 2023 in connection with the oft-mentioned London Mission, it is now assured that the visit of My Feminine Self in a gross material body will be effective in the United Kingdom in ALL necessary respects and that it will have the deepest and widest impact that can be achieved within the newly established spiritual situation. This will be achieved on the basis of the updated principles of multidimensionality, all-inclusiveness, universality and completeness, on the basis of which all our spiritual work is carried out and on the waves of which the London Mission and, almost a year and a half later, the England Mission were also carried out. Therefore, these two events cancelled the previously formulated principle about the impossibility of My visiting the island kingdom in other than a crystalline body. In reality, however, this has also been accomplished by another, continuously performed action "behind the scenes" and "at the scene", which is directly related to these events and in which a huge number of God's representatives, members of our Team, are involved, each of whom has My heartfelt thanks. But of course we could not do without those segments of the spiritual work which are not directly connected with the London Mission and the England Mission, since everything is more or less interconnected. Thus, every particle in the whole chain of events has its important and irreplaceable place, without which it would be impossible to fulfill My perfect plan.

If I am to conclude the body of information on My personal visit to the United Kingdom in a gross material body, it must be stated that its realization is in fact the most important prerequisite for My later visits to this country in a crystalline body. In the respect described, then, it is not the London Mission or the England Mission that matters most in this, but it is the actual visit to the country in question in the gross body of the Goddess. If this expedition had not taken place, the burdened territory associated with the very essence of the negative state would not have been able to bear the later visit of The Lord Jesus Christ (The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family) in the crystalline body from a spiritual point of view. The course of elimination of the negative state would be disrupted, and as a result, many beings would face tremendous spiritual damage to their essences. Because of these unfortunate factors, it would be impossible to continue to end the state of evils and falsities in the way that is the only right way from My absolute point of view. Due to the shifts in spiritual reality, beginning in 2025, the obstacles that until then had prevented not only Jana's visit to the United Kingdom in a gross material body, but also her travel to other highly burdened places on planet Zero, have been removed. That is why My personal visit to Egypt can take place in the spring of the year mentioned, that is before My actual visit to England. Thus, for the first time, Janička finds herself on the territory of the Muslim world. This will be another very important milestone not only in the preparatory phase of the Mission of God's Family, but also in the context of the whole process of gradual elimination of the negative state.

If I return briefly to your visit to Windsor, Míša, you will have noticed the air traffic over the locality, due to its proximity to Europe's busiest airport, Heathrow. The air port during your visit mirrored the activity of the newly established portal through which many sentient entities are converting to limbo, which was correlated with aircraft and their crews ascending into the sky. The landing aircrafts (not registered by you at the time), on the other hand, symbolized the grounding of various aspects of the negative state in the sense of termination of their activity, occurring in connection with the said conversions of beings into limbo and with the progressive and ever-increasing penetration of God's energy into the zone of displacement. With the conversions to limbo was also related the train leaving the station opposite the castle. The station was not a through station, but a terminal station, meaning one from which trains could leave or arrive from only one direction. The departing train from the only track present here was therefore related to the fact that there is only one way to convert to limbo, and that is through spiritual progression. There is no other "track" to get to it. The shopping centre here, with its many people, again mirrored one of the manifestations of the negative state, which is that beings in the anti-universe are replacing their connection to the one Source of life by satisfying various essential and non-essential needs through external means. The roof over this shopping centre reflected the barrier between these sentient entities and Me. In addition, it corresponded with their lack of spiritual perspective and insight, resulting from a closed heart and mind burdened by unconscious processes. The unroofed section, on the other hand, symbolized that even this barrier is not absolute (complete). At the same time, it was a reminder that there is an opportunity for every individual in the hells to connect with Me and develop it in the way necessary to leave the negative state.

Miša: In the evening we moved to Martinka's place in Milton Keynes, Buckinghamshire. That evening, and the following evening, we ordered a delivery of freshly baked pizza via a mobile robot. We ordered the food this way because of its unusualness, that is, for fun. The arrival of the flashing mobile box with antenna and headlights amused us greatly and increased the vibrations.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: It's good that you had fun on this experience, I laughed My heart out with you and I wasn't the only one. By laughing you have brought aspects based on the positive state to planet Zero. The method of pizza delivery by robot, on the other hand, depicted the approaching NWO, especially in the aspect of artificial intelligence taking control over people in a general and specific sense. In this case, it was mainly a reminder that artificial intelligence will be used in the NWO to keep people in one place where machines will deliver food to them. Since the robot was related to the negative state, your amusement in connection with this machine was all the more significant. On the basis of this there could be a further hit of the state of evils and falsities by My Love. Thus a piece of its unpleasant nature was again illuminated. In conjunction with this, the influence of the Datasystem has also been reduced in certain areas of hells, as a result of which more than one sentient entity has accepted God's embrace.

Miša: The next day (26 August) we went to the university city of Cambridge. We spent the first part of the trip in the extensive Cambridge University Botanic Garden, which we enjoyed very much. I felt relaxed and light there. The positive atmosphere was enhanced by the sunny and warm weather, the best we have had in all our days in England. The garden was very large and offered many places for rest or meditation. After a tour of the outdoor part of the garden, we went to explore the plants inside several greenhouses. At the end of our visit, we spread out a blanket on the English lawn and had a picnic. Then we went to the centre of Cambridge. The closer we got to the centre of the city, the more people increased. The quiet of the garden was replaced by the bustle of the streets, lined with old university buildings. Then we came to a place where we could see the Mathematical Bridge over the Cam River. As I later learned, it got its name from the railing made of polygons. It is specific in that it connects two parts of Queens' College and is adjacent to a building on the right bank with a passage leading to (or from - depending on the direction of walking) the courtyard. Under the bridge, punts (small boats) with tourists passed, steered by pilots using a pole pushing off the bottom. Afterwards, we visited King's College Chapel. This place also pulsed with the presence of many visitors. Then we walked back to the car we had at the botanical garden. We spent the night in Milton Keynes again.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: The botanical garden was primarily connected with the principle of spiritual, mental and physical diversity of the positive state, which was reflected by the many species of flora planted and growing there, as well as other facts. Every time you looked in different parts of the garden, you could find some interesting element, whether in the form of plants, trees, paths, ornamental rockeries, landscaped lawns, viewing platform, ponds, benches, fountains... It reflected the inner, interior, and exterior interest, novelty, and colorfulness of the environment of the Kingdom of God, including the character of the true life and its manifestations. The pleasant warmth (not heat) and the sunlight falling on all of this symbolized under the circumstances the fact that My energy is not only permeating this environment, but that it is also falling on this environment in a harmonious degree, not leading the Kingdom of God and its inhabitants into any extremes. It is not only the principle of the absence of extremes in the positive state that I have mentioned in this Message in the context of other connections. The snack was related to the principle of regeneration of forces on all three levels, which occurs with God's representatives whenever necessary, in a way that is tailored to each individual. This regeneration is one of the important factors for every representative of Me to successfully fulfill his/her mission.

Your leaving the botanical gardens and entering the street reflected the contrasting difference between the positive and negative state perceived by all who travel from the placed spheres of Creation to the dark anti-universe. The closer any entity is to the core of the Datasystem, that is, in the lower dimension of the zone of displacement, the more negative influences it perceives in the thickening spiritual atmosphere. This was reflected in your walk towards the city centre. The closer you got to the Cambridge campus, the more people and the general bustle increased. In this case, the core of the Datasystem was expressed by King's College Chapel and the surrounding university buildings. The chapel and the surrounding buildings of the study institution represented the pseudo-science and pseudo-knowledge that the sentient minds of the members of hells, including the inhabitants of planet Zero, are overwhelmed with. Your presence in this place reflected a new infusion of the ideas of the highest Truth into this core, that is, the Truth that is being delivered to the zone of displacement by the existence of the books of both portions of The New Revelation through the cooperation of the members of the Team of God's Family. Through the deeper anchoring of the ideas of My Word in the structure of the anti-universe, the elimination of the influence of the aforementioned pseudo-science and pseudo-knowledge is achieved, both on the global level of hells and on the local level in the hearts and minds of individual fallen beings. Replacing non-love and false wisdom with true Love and Wisdom is one of the main components of the process of conversion of sentient entities. When a being is freed from the bondage of knowledge that has no positive Source, he/she is freed from a limited and distorted view of self, others, and ultimately Me, The Lord Jesus Christ (The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family). He/she acquires an inner approach to everything based on the applied knowledge of true spirituality. In the positive state, the sentient mind will then be in constant connection with the spiritual heart. Her mentality, intellect, intelligence, reason, thinking, memory, or anything else will never again be plagued by negative influences. All the immaterial and material parts of the personality of any entity will function as they really should, because their arrangement and overall character will be based on Me.

Our spiritual work together in Cambridge has helped and will help in the future to save many intellectuals and students living in the past and present not only on this planet. At the same time, the spiritual help provided to the scientific section of the Pseudocreators has also intensified. We were also assisted in establishing a new level of salvation processes in areas related to the visit to the university city by some prominent figures associated with Cambridge who had converted earlier. These included Isaac Newton and Charles Darwin. Other personalities belonging to this category have also newly received the gift of salvation. These included the writer Virginia Woolf, the poet William Wordsworth and the mathematician and philosopher Bertrand Russell. As is always the case, many other beings went into limbo with them.

I will conclude My explanation of the spiritual correspondences in the Cambridge area by explaining the hidden connections about the punts floating with tourists on the River Cam, which you observed even before arriving at the aforementioned King's College Chapel. The boats and their crews in the given situation symbolized the situation of contemporary humanity. This is shaped, together with the planet, by the negative aspects corresponding to the left bank of the river and the positive aspects represented by the right bank of the river. As is known, the existence of this mixture is possible within the zero position where the inhabitants are located with their gross material world. The specific location of the planet and the earthlings between the -1 and +1 positions was expressed by the punts and their crews sailing down the river formed by the left and right banks. The watercourse itself in this case symbolized the fact that humanity has no solid ground underfoot in separation from Me. The pilot, or more accurately, the pilots (plural if we are talking about the multiple punts you have observed here) reflected in a spiritual sense the fact that mankind places its life in the hands of relative beings whom it is allowing to guide and direct it, rather than placing that life in the hands of the absolute Creator, The Lord Jesus Christ (The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family). The passing of punts with tourists under the Mathematical Bridge signified the relationship of humanity to true spiritual knowledge, which earthlings cannot reach because they are separated from it by the negative state. Only those who are connected with The New Revelation are not in a state of separation from the true Word of God. In this context, the positive hidden meaning of the bridge was also expressed by its function of connecting the two banks, which reflected the accessibility of positive elements and the accessibility of the representatives themselves of the Kingdom of God on the territory of the anti-universe. This viewpoint was expressed by the direction of walking from the right bank to the left bank, and never mind that the bridge was closed to the public and no one was physically walking across it at the time of your visit. The opposite direction of walking, on the other hand, expressed the connection between the negative and positive states used by the converted beings. The fact that they first enter limbo, in a hidden meaning, corresponded to the passage in the building leading to the courtyard. The true being and existence itself was represented by a courtyard with green grass, surrounded on all sides by the college buildings. You could not see the courtyard due to its closed nature, but that does not mean that it was not present. In this case, its surrounding by college houses did not signify unfreedom, confinement and a limited life perspective, as it might seem to some, but reflected the aspect of security that sentient entities experience in the positive state. It also expressed the aspect of tranquility resulting from the protection from the hustle and bustle of the zone of displacement represented by the surrounding streets. These characteristics of the Kingdom of God were also projected 'on the scene' on another occasion, namely your visit to Reading Park, as I mentioned above.

Miša: On the morning of August 27, we were down to the last few hours before our flight to Prague. It was time to move back to continental Europe. Before that happened, we managed to visit Woburn, where there is a large deer park (Woburn Abbey Deer Park), which is only a few minutes drive from Milton Keynes. After a short walk, Martinka drove us to Luton airport, where we said goodbye. Martinka was an excellent guide and support throughout our stay, and we could count on her at all times. We enjoyed our time together very much.

This time our aircraft had the expected pink-blue-white corporate colours of Wizz Air. While in England the weather was again more for a sweatshirt this day and the sun was rather hidden behind the clouds, in Prague after our landing the sky was almost clear and it was pleasant, about 26 degrees warm. Just as Hanka and Ivanka saw us off a few days ago, now they welcomed us back to Prague-Ruzyně. It was nice of them. After saying goodbye to Péťa, followed by leaving the airport concourse, the England Mission became history.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: Your short visit to the deer park was connected with the ongoing process of mediating help to the collective species of various animal, that is, non-sentient entities, which I have already mentioned in the passage describing your visit to the park in Reading. Back then it had a correspondence with the lion statue. In Woburn, on the other hand, it was already related to living animals, reflecting the shift that had taken place in helping non-sentient entities. Thus, the process of the stream of God's energy into the collective consciousnesses of many animal species has received a new impulse thanks to which the spiritual work in this matter has moved to an even higher level beyond the previous one. It is clear, then, that the potential that England has offered you has, up to the last moment, been used by you under My guidance to do very important spiritual work, producing a considerable amount of salvation qualities. All of them are now and will continue to be used for the purposes of the ever-accelerating process of ending the negative state.

The white front half of your aircraft symbolized the spiritual purity that is increasingly enveloping more and more areas of the Multiverse. The back half of the machine, with its predominant ratio of pink in compared with blue, gave in a hidden meaning that the feminine principle was more amenable to this purification than the masculine at the global level of the zone of displacement, even though the feminine principle was facing greater defile from the negative state. However, also the masculine principle on the global level of the zone of displacement will become much more open to the energy of the New and Newest Nature after the full initiation of the Mission of God's Family, whereby this certain imbalance will be wiped out. However, even this principle has for quite a long time, since the first portion of The New Revelation was brought to planet Zero, faced an ever-increasing stream of God's presence penetrating into its elemental essence, thus, together with the feminine principle, approaching its original, unburdened condition in which women and men live in the territory of the positive state. This approach was expressed by the climb of your aircraft into the sky. When I discuss these principles, I would like to stress that I am speaking in the context of their global, that is, the overall scale manifested in the zone of displacement. My Words, therefore, do not deal with the situation prevailing with the particular bearers of these principles on their personal level. What one is in one's qualities and how one approaches Me, others and oneself is a purely individual matter. Therefore, from the above information it does not follow that, for example, every man on planet Zero and in the zone of displacement would automatically be more closed to the energy of My Nature than other women, that he would be more distant from the positive state than other women, that he would have a more closed heart than other women, that he would be harder, rougher and more callous than other female bearers of life, etc. The qualities of each man and woman, as well as their overall spiritual position, are not primarily determined by what sexual principle prevails in a given being, but by what choices he/she makes based on his/her inner setting, by which he/she takes into himself/herself either more positive or more negative aspects, as is the case with the vast majority of earthlings and all members of the negative state, who keep themselves in it by their wrong attitude towards true spirituality. The mix of positive and negative aspects is different and always unique for every sentient entity on planet Zero and anywhere in the zone of displacement. Therefore, whether someone is male or female does not determine his/her spiritual position in relation to Me and the positive state. The only universally and profoundly effective way to open the way to your spiritually pure womanhood and manhood is to unite with Me in the heart by the knowledge and application of The New Revelation. Thus the God's representatives of both sexes become true women and true men in a gradually increasing number of aspects while still on this planet or elsewhere in the anti-universe. With each step forward on the spiritual path, the degree of positive elements in their femininity and masculinity grows stronger. Every man has the feminine principle within him, and every woman has the masculine principle within her. Approaching Me, therefore, has a beneficial effect on men and women, even on the principle that does not predominate in them. This brings the feminine and masculine elements into harmony in their within, interior and exterior.

Your landing in Prague on the afternoon of 27 August mirrored the completion of the next phase of the continuing shift in the aspect of linking the spiritual centre of the world with the global centre of the negative state on the territory of the United Kingdom. After the London Mission, this was the second such significant completion of the linking phase, which also marked the beginning of the next phase of the process. The linking of these two wholes, taken to a whole new level, results in the creation of many prerequisites necessary for the future global elimination of the negative state. The sunlight and the pleasant warmth of the situation reflected the simple fact that you were back in the territory of a spiritual center that has the highest protection of any country in the world, the highest vibrations, and at the same time the most aspects of the positive state streaming into it, as it is destined to do because of its spiritual, mental and physical character and the dense concentration of New Revelation readers and practitioners living here. Last but not least, it is predestined for it on the basis of My personal incarnation in the ranks of the Czech nation. Positive aspects are being spread from the spiritual center of the world to all corners of the planet and the entire anti-universe. It is not, of course, the only place from which the positive state penetrates the zone of displacement. The points through which My energy reaches planet Zero and the other hells are innumerable. However, those located in the Czech Republic and Slovakia are in many respects the most important ones. They take different forms, the most important ones in this respect being the spiritual hearts of My representatives incarnated in matter and the portals anchored in the terrain. Equally important, beneficial, necessary and irreplaceable are, of course, all other members of the Team of God's Family involved in ending the negative state from a different base than the earthly one on planet Zero. In this way, they are an excellent complement to their spiritual colleagues from the Czech Republic, Slovakia and many other countries of the world where God's representatives are located. So far, I have close co-workers in Germany, Austria and Finland, in addition to the United Kingdom. After the full launch of the Mission, members of other nations will gradually be brought in to begin working with us on a physical level.

Míša: Thank You, Lord Jesus Christ God's Family, for the beautiful and enriching time spent in the United Kingdom in the presence of Martinka and Péťa. I also thank all the other members of the Team of God's Family who participated in the common spiritual work on non-material levels from the first to the last day of England Mission. I am glad for the explanation of all the spiritual connections in our conversation and for the revelation of new facts. They are so apt that I did not feel the need to comment on them or to ask further questions. That is why, with a few exceptions, I went straight to the next topic of describing the places we visited. Our conversation is now almost over. Before we write the last dot, I know You would like to comment on the meeting in Slovakia, which took place just a few days after our return from England. It took place in Bystrá in the Low Tatras in Slovakia from 30 August to 1 September 2024.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: Yes, at the end of this conversation, I would really like to comment on the meeting in Bystrá, which you did not physically attend at the time, given that your stay in England had ended and you were planning to travel to Jordan. There is no need to go into this meeting in any particular detail. Therefore, I will focus only on the hike to the highest mountain of the Low Tatras - Ďumbier (2046 m above sea level), which took place on 31 August.

The first part of the trip consisted of a cable car ride up Chopok Mountain (2024 m above sea level), which was attended by a group of more than twenty Team members. Here the group split up. A smaller part of the group (each according to their own feeling and disposition) set off on a four-kilometre hike through the difficult terrain to Ďumbier. Those who, on the other hand, took the cable car down to the Jasná ski resort in the valley Demänovská, reflected the spiritual work done for the positive state in the territory of the deep regions of hells.

God's representatives, who together with Janička went on a several-hour hike to Ďumbier and back, depicted in a spiritual sense the difficult journey to the positive state that My direct incarnation and God's representatives undergo here. This thorny and winding path was expressed by a mountain trail filled with many unstable stones. The fact that the spiritual ascension of My material Self and My representatives is being achieved in the context of the negative state territory was mirrored by the terrain with minimal vegetation and the scorching sun. The ascent to Ďumbier seemed relatively easy at first, but reality began to convince God's representatives and Janička herself more and more of the opposite. The fact that the ascent seemed relatively easy reflected the primal spiritual perspective that beings are in when they accept their challenging mission before incarnating on this planet. Then they are aware that they will accomplish all that they have chosen to experience in the desired way, with the knowledge of the specific way in which the accomplishment of their mission will be achieved and the positive impact that mission will have on their lives and all of Creation. However, at the time of their ongoing incarnation, involving full immersion in the life-role, they are not aware of any specific content of the pre-incarnation agreement, nor are they in permanent spiritual perspective exposed to all the binding conditions of gross material reality with its many unconscious processes. On top of this, they are confronted with a series of tasks and challenges to which they must take some kind of stance. As a result, they feel the weight of their lives in a way that seems much heavier than it was when they rehearsed all aspects of their lives in an non-material reality and agreed to every point of that agreement. And so even the members of the expedition to Ďumbier found the journey easy at first, knowing that they were equipped for it in every way, that they would be supported by their eternal Parent from within, and that they would return safely to their starting base in the form of the peak of Chopok, which in this case represented the positive state that My material essence and the other God's representatives would reach after completing their mission in gross material bodies.

Those who did not go to Ďumbier, or who turned back and returned during the journey, reflected in their personality other aspects of spiritual correspondences than the one connected with the pre-incarnational agreement. This group of members of the Mission of God's Family depicted primarily the aspect of the diverse deployment of My representatives in the different areas of Creation, and in those areas where they are currently needed. The descent of some of the trippers by cable car to the Jasná ski resort in the valley Demänovská reflected, as I said a moment ago, the spiritual work carried out for the positive state in the territory of deep hells. In this case, the zone of displacement was expressed by the valley, the sphere of true being and existence was represented by the hearts of the Team members. Their spiritual working being put into process in the territory of hells was then symbolized by the very name of the ski resort, letting us know that this work is positive, bringing light into the darkness, brightening the hearts and minds of all who are ready to receive God's energy. The name of the ski resort located in the valley also referred to the fact that even in hells there is the presence of positive elements, albeit in a minimal degree, since no environment of the anti-universe can be absolutely negative. The same connection applies to the members of hells themselves. Even they cannot be absolutely evil, for they possess a spark of life within, containing positive gifts and talents from Me, which then begin to blossom during their conversion.

As I stated above, the group going to and from Ďumbier depicted the arduous journey to the positive state that My direct incarnation and God's representatives are undergoing here. While Chopok was related to the positive state, Ďumbier corresponded with the planet Zero - with the most external outwardness. Thus, the hike of Janička and My representatives to Ďumbier depicted more accurately first the separation from the true being and existence (Chopok) in order to reach the most the most external outwardness on planet Zero (Ďumbier), after which comes the process of gradual return to the home base in the positive state (again Chopok). Thus, the hike to the highest mountain of the Low Tatras and back mirrored the journey of returning to the positive state from the beginning to the end. This was because the journey to the positive state did not begin on planet Zero itself, but began at the stage when Janička and all My representatives incarnated in the gross material world accepted their mission established in the agreement between them and Me, and when they trained on the non-material planes for their later task. It is also important to note that wherever My representatives incarnated into the gross material world from, their original homeland always lies in the positive state - notwithstanding the fact that these God's creations and super-creations in the sphere of true being and existence have never experienced their individual life from the perspective of earthly linear time as complete beings (on the spiritual, mental and physical level at the same time). But that will change as they are revibrated to New Earth. In fact, the positive state is the primordial homeland for all beings, because even the sentient entities fabricated in the hells have, underneath all the deposits, an interior made up of elements of the positive state. Therefore, they are also in the ultimate consequence connected with the positive state, and therefore this state constitutes their primordial homeland, where their essential essence rightfully belongs from the very moment of the beginning of their individualized being and existence.

The four-kilometre journey from Ďumbier back to Chopok was the most difficult phase of the hike, having to do with the fact that only life on planet Zero is the most difficult and decisive phase for My direct incarnation and for each of My representatives in the context of returning back to the positive state, far surpassing the stage that preceded their incarnation into the gross material world. The closer My trippers got to their destination, the less physical energy they had and the shorter the time until the last cable car departure at 5 pm. In the last hundred meters before the finish, I reached the bottom of My strength in this body. But I had support in Štěpánka Holubová, Inguska Giertlová and Ivanka Potůčková, who pushed Me closer to the goal. While Vilko and Alenka Hýbel together with Lojzík Nekola left Chopok by the previous cable car, My female group followed them in the next ride, which was the last one of the day. At the moment of entering the cable car, there was about a minute left until departure. During the grueling march, which was also a form of spiritual trial, Janička demonstrated - as she has many times in her life - a strong faith and trust in her Higher Self, in the absolute Divinity of The Lord Jesus Christ (The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family). Thus, in this very limiting body, I have shown again in a unique way to all beings involved the strength and power of faith and trust that will lead not only Me but also My children of all kinds safely to the goal, which in the spiritual dimension means to the home base in the positive state. In addition, on the basis of unconditional Love for all in Creation, I have shown them the desire not to give up, but to continue with firm will and determination towards the dream goal, where the desired relief awaits everyone and the space for a new beginning opens up in the form of an incomparably more pleasant life. I have also demonstrated to Myself that with humility and patience it is possible to endure even the at first sight unbearable, that is, to endure even the greatest renunciation and to become after all a reborn individual who will be incorporated into eternal life. The female representatives who helped push Me to the goal personified the positive aspects of belonging, solidarity, kindness and gentleness, all based on their compassion and mercy that they radiated towards Janička and de facto towards the entire Multiverse, thus taking away another part of the power of the negative state in cooperation with Me. The aspects personified at that moment by Štěpánka, Inguška and Ivanka mirrored at the same time the same characteristics that the other members of the Team operating on other than earthly planes also have towards Me and the whole Creation. Vilko, Alenka and Lojzík personified these aspects within their hearts as they walked in front of My women's group on the way back to Chopok as a vanguard and they remained inside and in thoughts with Janička and the others, wishing them only the best - above all, that they would make the last cable car down the two-thousand-meter mountain.

On the remaining time until the last cable car departs, it became apparent that even though from an earthly point of view many things happen at the last minute, it is still on time. To realize this fact it is important to use the principle of the mentioned trust, namely the trust that only I can best judge from My absolute position when it is the right time for something. Trust in Divine Providence is, of course, appropriate and desirable in any other sphere of life, not just in relation to the passage of time. The catching of the cable car was a reminder that following My plan within ensures happy endings. The fact that the cable car ride was the last one that day symbolized, in connection with My person, that as Janička I would personally oversee the ending of the present cycle of time and close its imaginary door together with God's representatives. The same is true for a time that will occur much sooner than the end of the cycle of time, which is the completion of the process of the division of humanity. Even then, I will be personally closing its imaginary doors with God's representatives. With the final wave of raptured humans on New Earth before the arrival of the Pseudocreators and Renegades, we will be the last to leave planet Zero, which we will have visited in a select circle for years before in new crystalline bodies.

The arrival of Janička and others at the lower station of the cable car under Chopok, where all members of the expedition to Ďumbier and back already had solid ground under their feet, reflected the action immediately following the completion of the current cycle of time. The relief, pleasure, joy and other positive feelings that then come to the heart of all sentient entities in Creation were in a way reflected in the feelings stirred up in the hearts of My travelers at the moment of the happy reunion of the two groups from Ďumbier. They were all inexpressibly grateful to have this expedition behind them and not to have to repeat it again, just as all beings in existence and being will one day be inexpressibly grateful that they will never have to face the horrors of the negative state again. Those who were waiting in the lower station for the arrival of Janička's cable car, their interior lit up, especially because Janička is among them again. This group of God's representatives were expressing, in a hidden meaning, the feelings of joy, satisfaction and fulfillment resulting from the intensified presence of The Lord Jesus Christ (The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family) that will be experienced on all three levels by all members of the new cycle of time.

In the new cycle of time, each being will experience a restoration of its spiritual, mental and physical condition that will exclude the persistence of any remnants of the negative state. This was reflected in the situation that occurred in the evening, not long after the end of the arduous journey, when it turned out that Janička and the others who had overcome Ďumbier were not affected by the hike in any way. They did not feel pain, exhaustion, fatigue, apathy and reluctance, but on the contrary, they were in such a state of mind as if they had not even completed any demanding hike. They were therefore able to spend the evening in the presence of other members of the meeting in a very good spiritual, mental and physical state of mind. The pleasant, carefree, effortless, joyful, fun and playful essence of life in the fullness of the positive state was reflected the next day during a visit to the water theme park "Holidaypark Kováčová" with thermal water. Even the water itself had meaning. For its health-giving effects combined with the temperature expressed a new nourishing and warm quality of My Love, which will be attained when the fullness of the positive state is triggered with its constant subsequent actualization. The very presence of God's representatives in the water symbolized the future total union of sentient entities with this Love.

That would be all for this topic, as well as for all the previous ones.

Míša: Thank You, Lord Jesus Christ God's Family, for revealing further context. This final part of our conversation was also very interesting and beneficial. I'm glad it could happen. May it benefit as many beings as possible. I love you and all of you.

The Lord Jesus Christ God's Family: Thank you, Míša, for the opportunity to have such a great conversation. I Am grateful to you for recording My Words. The result is truly magnificent. It is certain that the conversation will help many life-bearers. All those who take its message to heart are very helpful in ending the negative state.

I love you all too.

With Love
